HEAT CAUSES MANY DEATHS

High Temperature and the Local Rivers Increase Already Long List.

MAXIMUM REACHES 92

Prostrations on the Streets and in the Mills Are Numerous.

NO RELIEF IS YET IN SIGHT

With the local temperature threatening to break all summer records, the residents of Pittsburgh and vicinity sweltered yesterday as never before this summer. Many deaths and prostrations resulted from the high temperature, while many others were made ill.

THE DEAD.

MRS ELLA WISSEL, aged 41, wife of Andrew Wissel, died of heat exhaustion at her home near the West Braddock bridge. She had been ill for some time.

REYMOND JENKINS, aged 2, son of Richard Jenkins of Thirteenth avenue, Homestead, died from heat exhaustion at the family home in the morning.

UNKNOWN BOY—Body was found in the Ohio river at Beaver yesterday and the coroner of Beaver county notified Coroner Armstrong, as it is thought the body floated down to the point where it was found.

CHARLES JHISKI of 5 Kline alley, McKees Rocks, is reported to have been drowned while bathing in the Ohio river at McKees Rocks on Sunday.

A TWO-MONTHS' OLD BABY was reported to the morgue yesterday as having died from heat exhaustion at its parents' home, 106 Fountain street.

JOHN MYSER, aged 11 months, died at 1:35 p. m. yesterday at his home at Port Vue.

ALEXANDER ZERMICK was found yesterday in the Monongahela river near the Twenty-ninth street bridge by Patrick Kee of 28 South Twenty-eighth street.

ANNIE REYMER, aged 6, died at the home of her parents in East Pittsburgh yesterday, from the excessive heat.

KOZINNERAS RODONKAS, aged 30, of 208 Orchard street, Esplen, was drowned in the Ohio river while bathing near the Penn Maleable Iron works in McKees Rocks.

THE PROSTRATED.

GEORGE BIRMINGHAM, aged 35, of South Eighth street, was prostrated by heat in South Tenth street last night and removed to the South Side hospital.

SAMUEL JOHNSTON, colored, of 322 Beeler street, employed by the Blake Asphalt Company, was overcome by the heat at Millvale and Center avenues yesterday afternoon. He was taken home.

DR. C. C. RINEHART, of 620 Summerlea street, while returning home on a North Highland street car, was overcome by the heat at Brady and Forbes streets yesterday afternoon. He was removed to the Oakland police station, where he recovered sufficiently to be taken home.

GEORGE KOERICH, aged 52, of 1544 East Ohio street, Allegheny, was overcome while walking in Perry street shortly before 5 o'clock and was taken to the Allegheny General hospital in a patrol wagon. He was later removed to his home.

WILLIAM ANDREWS, aged 39, of 107 West Montgomery avenue, Allegheny, dropped at the corner of Federal and Ohio streets at 7 o'clock last evening. He was taken home in a patrol wagon.

TONY COPTENGER, aged 45, a mill-worker, was seeking air and rest on his back porch at 112 Leckey avenue, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon, when he became unconscious from the heat. He was taken to St. John's General hospital and is in a serious condition.

JOHN HESS of Irwin avenue, Homestead, was overcome by heat at 10 o'clock yesterday morning while driving a team of horses in Hays borough. He fell from the wagon and was painfully injured. He is not expected to recover.

THOMAS MORAN of Hawkins avenue, North Braddock, was overcome at the Edgar Thomson plant, Braddock, and was taken to his home in a serious condition.

ANTON VISCISCO, a foreman of track repairmen on the Pennsylvania railroad and four of his laborers were overcome while working near Turtle Creek yesterday and were taken to their homes in Brinton.

THOMAS GIBSON of Munhall was overcome while at work in the Howard axle works, Homestead, and was taken to his home.

A horse driven by Peter Hardorana of 801 Webster avenue, became crazed by the heat yesterday afternoon in Beaver avenue, Allegheny, and dashed into a street car at Brady street. Hardorana was thrown out and severely bruised and the wagon was demolished.

While the temperature climbed steadily, as indicated by the official weather tube on the roof of the Farmers Bank building, everybody sweltered and by many the day was declared to be the hottest experienced so far this season. The mercury reached a maximum of 92 degrees at 5 p. m., at which time the atmosphere was blistering hot and no air was stirring. The highest temperature recorded so far this season in Pittsburgh was 94 degrees and it occurred on June 15. The hottest July 17 in the history of the local weather bureau was in 1887, when the temperature went up to 101 degrees.

The lowest temperature recorded at the weather office yesterday was 68 degrees and was reported at 4 a. m. At 8 o'clock yesterday morning the humidity was 73 per cent, while at 8 p. m. it was 52 per cent. The hottest place in the United States yesterday was Philadelphia, which had 96 degrees. Rain fell in only two places in the country during the day. New Orleans had .52 of an inch and Dubuque, Ia., reported .08 of an inch.

In the mills and factories in the Monongahela and Turtle Creek valleys the workmen suffered more yesterday than at any time since the hot weather of last summer. Many workmen were overcome by the heat, while others had to quit work and go home in order to prevent prostration. Realizing the great danger to life, emergency physicians at the mills were kept within call all day. Extra men were also placed at work to give the regular hands a spell and in this way prostrations were kept as low as possible. In the foreign settlements of Braddock and Homestead the people spent the greater part of the day in

NAVAL OFFICER DIES FROM HEAT

He Is Lieutenant Commander Boughter, a Native of Lebanon, Pa.

DEATH RECORD ELSEWHERE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU
Room 16, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.

The navy department received word today of the death of Lieutenant Commander Francis Boughter, U. S. N., who died of heat apoplexy at Philadelphia at 4 o'clock this morning at the age of 36 years. He was born in Lebanon, Pa., in January, 1869, and was appointed to the naval academy in 1883. His present rank, lieutenant commander, dates only from the first of this month. At the time of his death he was powder inspector for the eastern coast.

During the Spanish-American war Lieutenant Commander Boughter served on the McCalla.

The body will be taken to Lebanon, Pa., for burial.

NEW YORK, July 17.—After a respite of one day the hot wave that swept over New York last week causing scores of deaths and hundreds of cases of prostration, returned today with renewed intensity. While the heat was intense, the air was stirred by light breezes and it was largely owing to this that only two deaths, directly due to heat were reported. The total number of prostrations for the whole city was less than 50.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—This city experienced the hottest weather of the year today. One death and a dozen prostrations were reported to the police.

CHICAGO, July 17.—With temperature today six degrees higher than at the corresponding time yesterday, deaths from heat began early. The first reported was that of Willis Duvinski, winner of many prizes in contests for killing and dressing beeves, who was overcome while at work in the killing room of the Hammond Packing Company today.

FACED TERRIBLE DOOM IN MINE'S GREAT DEPTH

Frightful Experience of Englishmen Who Were Exploring the Big Mohegan Mine.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

DENVER, COL., July 17.—To face death by drowning in the icy waters of a cavern 1,000 feet under ground, to feel a narrow strip of ground affording temporary safety crumbling away inch by inch into the black waters lapping at their feet, to see their only hope of rescue just an inch above their outstretched hand, and finally to be saved after hope was gone, was the experience of the Hon. Howard Wyndham and his companion, Sir George Berkeley, of London, in the Mohegan mine at Victor last Friday.

They went to Victor to inspect the Mohegan mine and were being lowered in the shaft when they saw water below them. They jerked the bell rope to signal the engineer and broke it. The cage continued downward and when the water was up to their chins they jumped for a ledge and reached it.

The engineer, puzzled by the one bell he heard before the rope broke, began hoisting slowly and the cage left them. Then they discovered that the clay ledge they were standing upon was breaking down. Barely in time to save them, the cage was lowered again and stopped where they could reach it and they were hoisted to safety. The shaft had filled to a depth of thirty feet or more from sewage water.

WORKING ON NEW LEAD.

Employe of Agricultural Department Said to Have Sold Examination Questions.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture has begun an investigation of a report that a certain female employe of his department has sold questions to be asked in civil service examinations prior to the holding of such examinations. Applicants are said to have paid liberally for the service. The examinations alleged to have been thus manipulated were for positions requiring technical knowledge and the questions were prepared in the department.

Morgan H. Beach, the United States attorney for the District of Columbia, who is in charge of the investigation into the cotton crop scandal, has gone to New York in search of evidence. It is understood that he intends to interview L. C. Van Riper and other New York brokers who made disclosures of the methods employed by Former Associate Statistician Edwin S. Holmes.

STEEL'S PROFITS ARE $30,000,000

The Corporation's Showing for Year's First Half Is Six Times Greater Than Last Year.

STATEMENT OF ITS EARNINGS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, July 17.

The Wall Street Journal says: The official figures of the net earnings of the United States Steel Corporation to be made public July 25, will show:

1—That the Steel corporation has made in the first half year practically its interest and sinking fund charges and dividends on the preferred stock for the entire year.

2—That, allowing liberally for items to be charged off, the undivided profits to add to surplus at the close of the year will be at least $30,000,000, as against $5,047,852 in 1904.

Before net earnings are declared the United States Steel Corporation charges off the expenditures made for ordinary maintenance and repairs, interest on the bonds and fixed charges of subsidiary companies. After net earnings are declared it appropriates the amounts needed for interest and sinking fund on its own bonds, sinking funds for subsidiary companies, depreciation and extinguishment funds and special construction and repair funds; then it provides for dividends.

On the basis of its present bonded indebtedness and sinking funds, and sinking funds of subsidiary companies, the Steel corporation's full requirement for the calendar year 1905 and including preferred dividend, will be as follows:

Sinking funds subsidiary companies	$ 1,583,116
Sinking funds Steel Corporation bonds	4,666,000
Interest U. S. Steel bonds, first mortgage	14,197,850
Interest U. S. Steel bonds, second mortgage	8,139,442
Total interest and sinking funds for year	29,151,408
Preferred dividends for year	25,219,676
Total interest sinking funds and dividends for year	54,371,084

If the corporation's net for the second quarter totals $31,200,000, its net for the half year will be $54,225,896, or within $145,158 of the total interest and sinking fund charges and the preferred dividend for the entire year.

Assuming that the net for the last half year will approximate $70,000,000, and that the Steel corporation will make extraordinarily heavy charges of say $24,000,000 for depreciation, extinguishment and extraordinary replacement funds; that it will set aside a special construction fund of $10,000,000 and will charge off $5,000,000 for adjustment of various accounts, the undivided profits or surplus will still run $31,000,000, against $5,047,852 in 1904, $12,304,216 in 1903, and $34,253,056 in 1902.

GREATEST STEEL MARKET THE COUNTRY EVER SAW

Such Is the Situation as Viewed by Judge Gary—Prices of Products Must Soon Go Up, He Declares.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, July 17.—Judge E. H. Gary of the United States Steel Corporation's executive board is quoted here by a leading financial agency as saying:

"We have run into the greatest steel market the country has ever known. I don't like to make any statement regarding the steel trade because consumers would take alarm if they knew the true state of affairs, but the Steel Corporation has on hand more orders in certain lines than can be filled in 15 months. The structural steel and the steel rail departments are buried with orders.

"Structural steel prices must soon be raised because builders from all parts of the country are clamoring for immediate deliveries. I know nothing about the stock market, but I know the steel trade never enjoyed such a boom as that of today."

CONFIDENT OF CONVICTING CARLTON OF KILLING WIVES

New York Police Believe They Can Prove He Murdered Them for Insurance Money—One Woman Intimates She Knew of Such Collections.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—Inspector Adam A. Cross, who has had a score of detectives investigating the mysterious deaths of the two wives of Frederick E. Carlton, now in a cell in Raymond street jail, Brooklyn, charged with larceny, made the direct charge today that Carlton was responsible for the sudden deaths of both his wives, who, Carlton says, died of lockjaw.

"From my investigations," said Inspector Cross today to a reporter, "I have found that everything points to the conclusion that Carlton was responsible for the death of his two wives. I cannot say anything more at present. When the man is arraigned tomorrow on the swindling charge, he will, in all probability be confronted with an accusation of a more serious nature."

The inspector was most emphatic and made his statement after much deliberation.

Additional light was cast today concerning Carlton's collection of insurance money in a letter which was taken by the inspector from the bottom of one of Carlton's trunks.

This letter was in the handwriting of Mrs. Eleanor Vandeventer who says she expects to marry Carlton, and the inspector holds that it shows that she knew Carlton secured insurance money after the deaths of his two wives.

In this letter, dated Burlington, Vt., June 6, 1903, Mrs. Vandeventer wrote:

"Why in God's name don't you write to me? I am heartsick. I have been up to meet every mail. Dearest, if you don't write to me very soon you may have to collect my insurance."

This latter phrase was heavily underscored twice.

Judge Sewell of the supreme court in Brooklyn today granted the application of District Attorney Clarke for an order permitting the exhumation of the body of Mrs. Mary G. Carlton, wife of Frederick E. Carlton, buried in Calvary cemetery. Coroner Flaherty announced later that the grave will be opened in all likelihood Wednesday, and an autopsy held by Dr. O'Connor of the board of health.

RUSSIA NOT YET CRUSHED

Will Fight on If Japan's Terms Are Harsh, Says Witte.

HE FEARS THEY ARE

Declares Significance of Internal Dissensions Has Been Misrepresented to World.

AVERS THE CRISIS WILL PASS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 17.—M. Witte, the senior Russian peace plenipotentiary, received the correspondent of the Associated Press at his villa on Yelagin island today. The villa overlooks a vast park, in front of which runs the sweeping Neva. M. Witte's morning coffee was still before him, and he was already deep in the mass of mail upon his desk. A memorandum in front of him was filled with engagements, showing how crowded the hours will be before his departure Wednesday.

M. Witte spoke in French. The conversation gravitated quickly to the high mission with which the Russian statesman is charged, and the disposition of the foreign press to interpret his appointment as an indication that Russia had decided to make peace at any price.

"No, no," said he, straightening up in his chair and speaking slowly and distinctly, as if weighing the value of each word. "In the first place, I have been designated by the emperor as his ambassador extraordinary for pour parlers with the Japanese plenipotentiaries to ascertain whether it is possible to conclude a treaty of peace. My personal views are of secondary importance, but my ideas are in entire accord with those of my friend, Count Lamsdorf.

Czar Is Final Arbiter.

"In serving my emperor, I have received precise instructions from his majesty and shall follow them. The ultimate decision remains in the hands of the emperor. It is for him to decide the destinies of Russia. The emperor is the friend of peace and desires of peace, but I very much fear that the Japanese terms will be such that we will be unable to reach an accord.

"Secondly, the world should dismiss its mind of the idea that Russia wants peace at any price. There are two parties in Russia. One favors the continuation of the war—this is a large and influential party. The other, to which I belong, favors peace. I avow it frankly, because telling the truth has always been my rule in politics. I was for peace before hostilities broke out. When the war began, the situation changed.

"Even though there are these two parties as to the advisability of ending the war in the present circumstances, both would be united if the Japanese demands wounded the amour propre of the Russian people or jeopardized our future as a nation. I am sure if I report the conditions of Japan cannot be accepted Russia will accept the verdict and the Russian people will be ready to continue the war for years if necessary.

Russia Is Not Crushed.

"Thirdly, Russia is not crushed, as the foreign press has led the world to believe. The interior situation is very serious. I do not deny, but in Europe and America the true significance of what is happening is not understood. Correspondents come here and talk with a few hundred people in St. Petersburg and Moscow, misinterpret what is happening and tell the world with false impressions as to Russia's future.

"Russia has little resemblance to western countries. To know Russia, to understand the soul of the Russian people, it is necessary that one should have been born here or lived many years in Russia. The customs, the history, and mental psychology of the people are entirely different from those of western nations, and Russia cannot be judged by western standards. It is such an immense country, composed of diverse elements and interests, yet the Russian people are like a great family. At present they are torn by internal dissensions, but these divisions would disappear should the people really feel that the integrity of the country and its future destiny were at stake.

"Russia is not on the verge of dissolution as a great power, and is not obliged to accept any conditions offered, in spite of the military reverses she has sustained.

"We are passing through an internal crisis, which has been marked by many grave events, and which may have others still in store, but the crisis will pass, and in a few years Russia will again take her place as a preponderant power in the European concert."

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Ambassador Meyer has cabled the state department that M. Witte, the Russian chief plenipotentiary to the peace conference, will sail from Cherbourg July 26.

PITTSBURGH WOMAN SHOT.

Mrs. Pearce of This City Is Wounded by Bullet Glancing on the Water.

Condition Is Serious.

PETERBOROUGH, ONT., July 17.—(Special.)—An accident has occurred at Stoney Lake, near Peterborough. Mrs. Pearce of Pittsburgh, a tourist, staying at Burleigh, with other friends, was out in a canoe during the afternoon and was shot in the shoulder by a young boy who was in another canoe.

The shooting was purely accidental. The boy had a 22-caliber revolver and shot at an object on top of the water, but the bullet, striking the water, glanced off and hit Mrs. Pearce. The injured lady was taken by boat to Lakefield and from there a special train was chartered to convey her to the hospital here, where she is at present. Her condition today is serious, though every possible precaution is being taken to insure her recovery.

SAYS WEAVER MAY PROCEED

Elihu Root Advises the Mayor to Go Ahead With Prosecutions.

BELL IS DERELICT

Therefore Chief Magistrate of City Must Take Up Task of Cleansing It.

MORE ARRESTS PROBABLE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU
Penn Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 17.

As a result of a letter which Mayor Weaver received today from Elihu Root, who thus severed his relations as the mayor's chief legal adviser preparatory to beginning his duties as secretary of state, arrests of prominent politicians are to be made in connection with the discoveries that have been made of graft in contracts on public works.

Mr. Root in his communication told the mayor that while it was the duty of District Attorney Bell to obtain indictments of the men who have been found to be implicated in the conspiracy to defraud the city, the refusal of the district attorney to perform his duty made it incumbent upon Mr. Weaver, since he knew of the evidence, to cause warrants to issue against the offenders and prosecute them to the fullest extent of the law.

Mayor Weaver and his other legal advisers will hold a conference tomorrow afternoon and then it will be decided, it is said, who will be arrested. The names of Senator James P. McNichol and Israel W. Durham have been mentioned as the chief offenders.

When interviewed by long distance telephone tonight, Mr. Weaver, who was at his summer home in Beaulah Park, N. J., indicated that he intends to follow Mr. Root's advice, but said that just what his course would be cannot be definitely stated until after tomorrow afternoon's conference.

Mr. Root's letter is as follows:

Elihu Root's Advice.

NEW YORK, July 17, 1905.

My Dear Mayor—I have discussed very fully with Mr. McKenzie, Judge Gordon, Mr. Davies and Mr. Ambler the facts bearing upon the determination of your present duty in regard to further criminal prosecution for the frauds against the city of Philadelphia, clearly indicated by the testimony already taken and by the further evidence which your counsel have collected.

It appears by the correspondence between Judge Gordon and District Attorney Bell that you have raised the evidence of grave crimes by a number of powerful, important persons in the city of Philadelphia to be laid before the district attorney, and that he has been requested to proceed, with proper prosecutions for such crimes, either before the grand jury of the county or before a committing magistrate, and that he has practically declined to do either, suggesting that you should proceed before a magistrate as a private prosecutor.

The reasons which lead the prosecuting officer to take this course I shall not discuss. The resulting fact alone is important for present consideration.

It is your duty as mayor first to see that the laws are enforced, and when you find they are being set at naught by criminal combinations it is your duty to bring the facts to the knowledge of the officer who is elected by the people to prosecute crime, and it then becomes his duty to prosecute, not yours.

Weaver May Prosecute.

I think you have done what the law requires of you in this instance, and that if the prosecutions so clearly indicated by the evidence in your possession and now in the possession of the prosecuting officer fail for want of further action, no one can justly say it is through any failure of duty on your part. I do not think, however, that this settles the question as to your future action.

Although the law does not require you to prosecute, it permits you to do so, up to the point where the return of committing magistrate goes into the hands of the district attorney. I think, in default of the action which ought to be taken by the public prosecutor, the great interests which you have undertaken to subserve demand you should nevertheless exercise your right to go before a magistrate and carry those prosecutions as far as the law permits you to go. In doing this you should, I think, invite the aid and co-operation of the district attorney, giving him every possible opportunity to take part in the prosecutions and to perform the duty for which he was elected.

An Opportunity for Service.

Crimes committed by men who have political power are often shielded behind official indifference and inactivity, and then, as one who has to do more than his duty to secure justice, you will not be the first public officer who has done a great public service against the resistance of those from whom the service ought to come. There is more at stake here than the mere punishment of isolated offenses. There is the question whether your city shall continue to be governed by criminals or shall take its place on the list of American cities capable of honest self-government. To secure the right solution of this question you cannot omit any proper and lawful effort.

When you have carried the prosecutions, either with or without the district attorney's aid, through the hands of the committing magistrate, you will have done everything in your power, and if the prosecutions then fail, after running within the exclusive power of the district attorney, and the Aspasia stable remain unclean, the people of the city cannot doubt who is responsible for failure.

Leaves Cases With Regret.

It is with great regret I find myself unable to proceed further with you in these cases. The assumption of other official duties, of which you are aware, will prevent me. I have taken very great interest in the cases because I have acquired absolute confidence in the sincerity of your purpose and in your pluck and persistency, and I have a strong desire that the city of Philadelphia, whose history and good name are so dear to every American, shall be relieved from the stain which a corrupt and criminal combination masquerading under the name of Republicans have put upon her.

I wish you God-speed in your further efforts.

Very sincerely yours,
ELIHU ROOT.

Bell Refused to Act.

Mayor Weaver and Judge Gordon last week requested that District Attorney Bell, in drawing up indictments against Councilman Frank H. Cavin and John

W. Hill, former chief of the bureau of filtration, should bring the charge of conspiracy with certain other persons to defraud the city. Councilman Caven is under bail for violating his councilmanic oath in being interested in city contracts and former Chief Hill is under bonds to answer charges of forgery and falsification of records in connection with contracts for the construction of the city's filtration plants.

At the hearing given both men before magistrates, the name of the contracting firm of D. J. McNichol & Co., which is constructing the greater part of the filtration system, was frequently brought in by witnesses. The members of this firm are former Insurance Commissioner Israel W. Durham, the leader of the local Republican organization; State Senator James P. McNichol and his brother, Daniel J. McNichol.

The district attorney, in refusing to add the charge of conspiracy to the indictment drawn against Caven and Hill, and to initiate criminal proceedings against "certain other persons," said such charges, based on the evidence taken at the Caven and Hill hearings could not under the law be made. He suggested the mayor take the initiative. Mayor Weaver and Judge Gordon insisted it was the district attorney's duty to begin proceedings, they declaring the evidence in his hands warranted him in so doing. Mr. Bell persisted in his refusal and the New York conference with Mr. Root followed. Those who participated in the conference besides Mr. Root and the mayor were former United States Attorney General Wayne MacVeagh, who is special counsel for the committee of nine of this city; former Judge James Gay Gordon, private counsel for Mayor Weaver, and Julien T. Davies and Joseph S. Auerbach, of counsel for the committee of 70.

PROSECUTOR BELL IS INJURED IN ELEVATOR

Cage Falls Seven Stories, Breaking District Attorney's Leg and Maiming Three Others.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—The breaking of the overhead cable wheel sent an elevator crashing down seven floors of the Land Title building, the tallest structure in Philadelphia, and resulted in serious injuries to all of the four occupants, including District Attorney John C. Bell and Assistant City Solicitor Henry T. Kingston. Mr. Bell, who has recently been in the public eye of Philadelphia more than any other man, except possibly Mayor Weaver, by reason of his refusal to prosecute big contractors and political leaders unless the prosecutions are originated by the mayor, sustained a compound fracture of his right leg. Mr. Kingston sustained fractures of both legs and at first it was feared amputation would be necessary.

The two lawyers had just left their offices on different floors and boarded the elevator, when a crash was head above them, something seemed to strike the roof of the elevator and the car started flying downward with such rapidity that the window glasses of the elevator were smashed to atoms by the explosive force of the air in the shaft, and people waiting on lower floors were nearly blown off their feet by the outrushing wind as the car sped by. An instant later the car struck the cement base on the street floor with a crash of twisted iron and steel. The entire skyscraper seemed to have collapsed and tenants rushed to the bottom of the shaft where the four mangled men were found in a heap in the car.

Mr. Bell was taken to the University hospital. Mayor Weaver was one of the first to extend his sympathy. The other injured are William Born of Collingswood, N. J., and George Mann, the operator. Both were able to leave the hospital this evening.

RECOVERS FINE PEARLS.

They Are Valued at $1,200 and Were Taken by Bellboy Employed at Schenley.

After a search of a month and a half two valuable pearls, stolen from the Hotel Schenley, were recovered yesterday, and the youth who took them is in jail. The larceny of the pearls, which are valued at $1,200, occurred on June 1, when Charles Reed, aged 20, employed at the hotel at the time as a bellboy, went to F. M. Laughlin's room at the hotel to get his trunk, as Mr. Laughlin was going on a trip.

After Mr. Laughlin reached his destination he discovered the jewels were missing. He telegraphed James Riley, proprietor of the hotel, and he employed G. B. Perkins of the Perkins detective agency in this city, to endeavor to recover them. Last night Detective Perkins arrested Reed and he was committed to jail by Alderman F. M. King of the South Side, on a charge of larceny, made by Mr. Riley. The pearls were pawned in a Smithfield street pawnshop by Reed, who confessed, and the jewels were recovered.

A deputation of the executive committee of the zemstvoists called on Gov.-Gen. Kozloff today and represented to him that in summoning the congress they were obeying the imperial will. It was called, they said, so that the report of the deputation of the congress received by the emperor might be communicated to the zemstvoists throughout the empire. The governor general said he had already sent to St. Petersburg their demand that permission to hold the congress be given and explained that when a detail of police endeavored to disperse the meeting of the executive committee yesterday the action was taken without his authority. The congress is called for Wednesday next.

THINK THEY WILL GET THE BLACK HAND GANG

Mamaroneck Police Believe They Are on the Right Track of the Italian Terrorists.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

MAMARONECK, N. Y., July 17.—The confession of Raffelo Migliaccio, who was arrested in Mamaroneck today, after attempting to extort $500 from Dominick Carelli, Sheriff Merritt and Assistant District Attorney Weeks of West Chester county believe may lead to the arrest of the whole gang.

The prisoner, who gives his occupation as a watchman, admits that he is an agent of the society, but says that he was forced to join. Migliaccio says that about two weeks ago, while he was on duty near Rye, five Italians whom he does not know confronted him in the woods and, pointing revolvers at his head, compelled him to get down on his knees and take the oath of allegiance to the society. The Black Hand men then compelled Migliaccio to visit the home of Dominick Carelli, a wealthy Italian boarding house keeper, and demand $500. Carelli and his wife complained to the police and caused Migliaccio's arrest. The next night five Black Hand men visited the saloon of Petro Caputo and demanded $50 from him. He refused to pay, and when he was leaning down behind the bar, they slashed him across the throat with their stilettoes.

Caputo caught up a shot gun and emptied both barrels into the ringleader of the gang and killed him. The others fled and a reward has been offered for their capture. Migliaccio refuses to give the names of the Black Hand men to the authorities because he is afraid that they will kill him if he exposes them.

EVERYTHING IS READY EXCEPT NAMING DAY

The Peace Plenipotentiaries to Be Taken to Oyster Bay on Two Cruisers.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

OYSTER BAY, L. I., July 17.—President Roosevelt practically devoted himself exclusively today to the transaction of the executive business, forwarded to him from Washington, and to recreation at and about Sagamore Hill. No arrangement for visitors was made and none were expected.

Except for the naming of the day of the arrangements have been completed for the approaching visit to the president of the peace plenipotentiaries. The navy department has suggested and the president has approved of the idea that the envoys be brought to Oyster Bay on two cruisers.

After the informal reception the plenipotentiaries will go aboard the Mayflower and Dolphin and will be taken to Portsmouth, N. H., with an escort of at least one cruiser and perhaps two. Commander Cameron McR. Winslow, who has been ordered to command the Mayflower, which will be at the disposal of the envoys during their sojourn in the United States, will continue as the president's naval aid, notwithstanding his new command.

MOB NEARLY KILLS MAN WHO UPSET GIRL'S BOAT

Bathers Rescue Young Woman Then Pursue Chap Who Rocked Their Craft Until It Capsized.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—Prompt retribution was meted out tonight to Samuel Brooks, a bather at Audobon beach, whose foolhardy mischievousness imperiled the lives of three young women. Brooks was rescued by the police after having received a terrible beating at the hands of hundreds of people who had seen him rock a boat until it was capsized and its occupants thrown into the water.

Carrie Bauer, Nellie Hatten and Agnes McLaughlin, each aged about 18 years, were rowing in the vicinity of many bathers when Brooks and a companion who were in the water, approached and heedless of the protests of the young women, climbed into the boat. Taking positions at either end of the craft the men began to rock the boat, and although the thoroughly terrified girls begged the intruders to desist, continued until the boat was upset. Bathers attracted by the plight of the drowning girls swam to their rescue and after a struggle brought the three in a semi-conscious condition ashore.

Meanwhile Brooks and his companion swam away and the latter escaped. Brooks was less fortunate and when he reached the shore an infuriated mob that had witnessed his performance set upon him with umbrellas and sticks and might have killed him but for the timely intervention of the police. He was placed under arrest.

TUBE CITY COUNCILS VOTE FOR PUBLIC BUILDING

Select and common councils of McKeesport held a joint meeting last night and settled finally the question of building a new city hall. Councilman P. J. Murphy had an ordinance passed some time ago providing for a municipal building and site to cost $150,000. Last night George H. Lysle introduced an amendment changing the amount from $150,000 to $100,000 and striking out the site, so that the latter ameunt will be for the building alone. It is expected that a small park, called the Diamond, at Fifth avenue and Market street, will be used, that being the only available city property.

Peary's new ship, the Roosevelt, which sailed yesterday on her north pole voyage, will not have to be paid, according to an order received today from Acting Secretary Garfield of the department of commerce and labor. The Roosevelt was fined for leaving Portland, Me., recently without proper clearance papers, and a bond to secure this payment was given before the vessel could leave New York. Mr. Garfield directs the local collector to refrain from proceeding in the enforcement of the fine.

BOSTON, July 17.—Commander Robert E. Peary, the arctic explorer, arrived in Boston today from New York and soon afterward departed for Sydney, Cape Breton, where he will join the steamer Roosevelt, in which he will attempt to reach the north pole.

Albert T. Patrick, sentenced to death for poisoning Millionaire Rice, last Saturday sent a note to Warden Johnston, asking him to have Breen's body embalmed, so that from a subsequent examination the effects of the embalming fluid might be learned. His purpose was to make use of the results of the examination in connection with his own case, as Rice's body was embalmed soon after his death. His request was ignored.

Old Trick Worked in Wilkinsburg.

A well-dressed young man entered the grocery store of Muritz Brothers in Wilkinsburg yesterday and asked for a $20 bill in exchange for small bills, saying that he wished to mail it. Mr. Muritz gave the man a $20 bill, which the stranger placed in a stamped envelope. While counting the bills given him in exchange Mr. Muritz discovered the amount was a dollar short. The stranger asked Muritz to take the envelope which was supposed to contain the $20 bill and said he would go out and have the mistake rectified. After a long wait Muritz opened the envelope to find instead of his $20 bill a folded piece of blank paper.

JAPANESE MAKE MORE CONQUESTS

Said to Have Completed Occupation of Sakhalin and Are Building a Railway.

RUSSIANS WANT TO HOLD IT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LONDON, July 18.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Hakodate, Japan, says that the Japanese have practically completed the occupation of the island of Sakhalin and are organizing a government.

The Shanghai correspondent of the Standard says the Japanese have landed on Sakhalin 125 miles of light railway and 3,000 coolies.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 17.—The Sret bitterly objects to the cession of the island of Sakhalin, declaring that as it commands the mouth of the Amur river its possession by the Japanese would constitute a constant threat to Russia in the far east and forge shackles from which the empire could never rid herself. The paper calls attention to the immence riches of the island in oil, coal, iron and gold, as well as in forests and fisheries.

Gen. Linevitch, under date of July 16, reports that the Japanese on July 14 were bombarding Naibuchi, on the southeast coast of the island of Sakhalin.

TOKYO, July 17.—It is expected that the Russian warships Pallada, Pobelda and Poltava, sunk at Port Arthur, will soon be refloated.

NEW YORK LEGISLATION IS DEFIED BY EDITOR

Jurisdiction in Hooker Case Is Challenged and Proceedings Must Begin Over.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ALBANY, N. Y., July 17.—The legislature tonight spent nearly the whole evening in coming to the conclusion that its procedure in reference to the allegations in the New York Press of a "big lobby," "boodle" and improper political influences in the Hooker case had thus far probably been in excess of the powers of the joint session. The final decision was that the case of Editor Wardman and his associates on the New York Press must begin all over again under at least a new form of subpoena.

Interest centered in the report that the legislature leaders would attempt the punishment of Editor Wardman for his refusal to answer questions relating to his expressed belief that improper influences were at work in behalf of Justice Hooker. No such attempt was made, for the very jurisdiction of the session was challenged at the outset by Managing Editor John A. Hennessy of the Press in his refusal to obey a subpoena and the whole matter went over for at least another day.

In defying the legislature, which he did by letter, Mr. Hennessy said that he declined to answer the subpoena on the ground that the extraordinary session had not power to inquire into any matter except that designated by the governor—the Hooker case.

Mr. Hennessy will now be subpoenaed under the form provided for in the special rules of the joint session, which subpoena will definitely require him to give testimony relative to the Hooker case.

MR. MORGAN AND KING TALK PRIVATE AFFAIRS

Financier Denies They Discussed the Financing of the Belgian Literal or Chinese Affairs.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, July 17.—Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, when I saw him this afternoon at his London residence in Prince's Gate, denied that his interview with the king of the Belgians at Dover last Wednesday had anything to do with the financing of the scheme for the development of the Belgian Littoral, as told in dispatches.

I drew Mr. Morgan's attention to a letter in today's European edition of the New York Herald signed "Behind the Scenes," which asserted that King Leopold's object in seeing the American financier was to stir him into resisting the demands of the Chinese for the surrender of the concession held by the American-Chinese development syndicate, of which Mr. Morgan was said to be the head, and in which his majesty was said to be interested.

BANKER UNDER ARREST.

Stephano Borrochini, Charged With Embezzlement, Apprehended in France.

Gov. S. W. Pennypacker has requested the state department at Washington for the provisional detention of Stephano Borrochini, who is wanted in Allegheny county on a charge of embezzlement. Borrochini, alias De Rosa, who was an Italian banker at 1233 Penn avenue, is under arrest at Havre, France, whence he sailed from this country. He is charged with the larceny of $1,000 from his brother Pietro, with whom he engaged in business. The arrest was made on complaint of Supt. McQuaide of the bureau of detectives.

Borrochini sailed from New York on July 6 on the steamer La Gascogne, and the following day his brother told McQuaide of losing his money. A cable description of the fugitive was sent to the prefect of police at Havre, and the arrest followed. Detective James Egan, who was working on the case, will likely be sent to France to extradite Borrochini.

CHIEF OF STAFF RESIGNS OFFICE

Col. J. M. Schoonmaker Asks to Be Relieved of Duties in the Grand Army.

ORDERS FROM NEW HEAD

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Room 38, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Capt. John P. King, the pension agent at Washington, was officially notified this morning of the death of Gen. Wilmer W. Blackmar, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. A telegram from Adjutant General John E. Gilman, dated Boston, July 7, and addressed to Captain King as "commander-in-chief, Grand Army of the Republic," said:

"Gen. Blackmar died Sunday afternoon in Boise, Idaho. You succeed him. I await your orders. Funeral details later. Shall you issue general order?"

Capt. King stated that he will issue in a day or two a general order as commander-in-chief of the Grand Army, as announcement to the order of the death of Gen. Blackmar. He will attend the funeral in Boston.

Shortly after receiving Gen. Gilman's telegram, Capt. King received a dispatch from Col. James M. Schoonmaker, of Pittsburgh, who is chief of staff to Gen. Blackmar, resigning his position. He gave as the reason for his resignation the great press of railroad business. Col. Schoonmaker being interested in a number of the principal railroads and other corporations in his city. Col. Schoonmaker was at one time a captain in the First Maryland cavalry, but subsequently commanded the Fourteenth Pennsylvania cavalry and made a brilliant record in the Valley under Sheridan. Capt. King has tendered the position of chief of staff, held by Col. Schoonmaker, to Col. J. J. McCardy, auditor for the postoffice department and past commander of the department of Minnesota. It is believed Col. McCardy will accept.

The next annual encampment of the G. A. R. will be held at Denver.

Capt. King announced today that under no circumstances would he be a candidate for election at Denver to be commander-in-chief. His work as pension agent in Washington, he said, consumed his time so entirely that it would be impossible for him to assume the onerous duties of commander-in-chief of the order. There are a number of candidates for the office, among them Corporal Tanner of New York, Maj. James R. Carnahan of Indiana, Judge Charles G. Burton of Missouri, Gen. Charles Burrows of New Jersey and Gen. R. P. Brown of Ohio.

Capt. John K. Miller, Sixtieth infantry, and Capt. Monroe C. Kerth, Twenty-third infantry, have been detailed to attend the annual encampment of the national guard of the state of West Virginia, to be held at the state camp ground, Parkersburg, W. Va., for a period of ten days, commencing at reveille, August 15, 1905.

I. W. STRAYER.

Blackmar for me and in my name. Take all necessary measures for funeral. Advise me what you do. Later I will prepare and send you formal general order assuming command."

BOSTON, July 17.—While all the arrangements for the funeral of Gen. Blackmar have not been completed it is probable it will be held here next Sunday.

The board of aldermen today adopted resolutions, and as a mark of respect adjourned. Gen. Blackmar was a member of the city government in 1872 and 1873.

BOISE, IDAHO, July 17.—The widow of Gen. Wilmer Blackmar, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, who died here yesterday evening, and her sister, Miss Brewer, departed today for Boston, with the body of the dead general, traveling over the Union Pacific by way of Omaha. REPORT SAYS ONE MAN WAS BEATEN TO DEATH

County Detectives Hurry to Imperial to Investigate Rumors of a Murder There.

A telephone message was received at the morgue last night from D. Stewart, a storekeeper at Imperial, stating that in a drunken brawl there a man had been beaten to death. County Detective John W. Reed and Frank Sennefelt left for Imperial at 10:30, expecting to pick up Detective R. L. McMillan at Oakdale to investigate the report.

Details of the fight were very meager. There is a large foreign element in the vicinity of Imperial, the men being employed in the mines. It is said that several men engaged in a fight, following a spree, and that when the fighters fled the dead body of one man was found.

ALEXANDER IS SERIOUSLY ILL

It Is Said He Was Unable to Write His Resignation as President of Equitable.

COMPLICATION MAY ENSUE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 17.

James W. Alexander, former president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, is in a critical condition in Unkaway sanitarium, within three miles of "The Oaks," the summer residence of James H. Hyde. Surrounded by a staff of nurses, and watched every moment by his own physician, the patient is rarely conscious of his surroundings, and requires constant attention.

The precise nature of Mr. Alexander's illness is more or less conjectural. Drs. Keyes, Chetwood and Bailey have almost daily consultations, and it has become known the patient, originally suffering from a kidney affection, has had a mild apopletic stroke, and later exhibited symptoms of incipient softening of the brain.

Secrecy of an extraordinary nature has been observed by the immediate family of Mr. Alexander. So strict has been the observance of this secrecy that even James H. Hyde was unaware of the close proximity of his former associate and chief. When told today that Mr. Alexander's retreat was so close at hand, Mr. Hyde expressed the utmost astonishment and incredulity.

Complications May Arise.

Several theories have been advanced to account for the extraordinary air of mystery thrown around Mr. Alexander's place of retreat. It is hinted that his mental condition has been such for some weeks as to preclude his having signed his resignation as president of the Equitable. The avowal of his true condition might, it is said, involve the Equitable and Mr. Morton in legal complications.

It is also pointed out that Mr. Alexander's condition must be more than serious to cause him to be sent to Unkaway, separating him from Mrs. Alexander and his daughter, Mrs. John W. Alexander, both of whom are in their summer homes in Onteora Park, where ideal conditions prevail.

Pursuant to the order given by Supt. Hendricks, Deputy Superintendent Robert Hunter took a copy of the testimony taken by Supt. Hendricks in his investigation of the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance society, to the district attorney's office today. District Attorney Jerome was not at his office when Mr. Hunter's messenger reached there and Assistant District Attorney Garvan signed the receipt for the testimony. Mr. Jerome was not expected at his office until later in the day. It was said today that at the next meeting of the directors of the Equitable, on July 23, three or four additional names for directors will be presented by the board of trustees. The board of trustees will hold no meeting between now and the directors' next meeting.

Ryan Will Sell Back Holdings.

From a director of the Equitable Life Assurance society it was learned today that Thomas F. Ryan, who recently purchased the stock holdings of James H. Hyde, has made an agreement with the three trustees of the Ryan holdings and the newly elected directors, to sell the stock he purchased back to the Equitable society. The sale is to be made as soon as possible, it is stated, and Mr. Ryan has agreed to turn it into the society, thus thoroughly mutualizing it, for the same sum he paid for it, $2,500,000, plus 4 per cent interest, between the dates of his purchase and the sale.

It was stated that a number of the newly chosen directors, those selected by Grover Cleveland, Judge O'Brien and George Westinghouse, the trustees, accepted posts in the directorate only after they had been assured most emphatically that such an agreement was in view, and that such an agreement existed between Mr. Ryan and the three trustees. There was a meeting of the executive committee of the society today, but at its conclusion Chairman Morton said there was no business of any moment transacted.

BRICK FOR SOMEONE.

Either Labor People or the Democrats Are Being Fooled by the Citizens.

The Citizen bosses have been flirting with Mayor A. B. Hays. They wanted him to be their candidate for prothonotary. He rejected the offer.

It happens the labor people claim to hold a promise that they are to be allowed to name the fusion candidate for prothonotary. A convention is to be held July 23 to select the man. As there is just a prothonotary and one commissioner to be nominated, it is evident the Citizens either intend to break the pledge given to the workingmen or allow them to name a man for commissioner. If this program is followed the Democrats will object. They want James A. Clark to select his running mate and he does not want a representative of labor on the ticket with him.

WELSH COAL PURCHASE NOT MADE BY GERMANS

LONDON, July 17.—It is authoritatively stated tonight that the reported purchase of Welsh coal fields exclusively by a German syndicate is inaccurate. It is a fact that negotiations are in progress for the purchase of the extensive Whitworth estate in South Wales, but the purchasing company, it is stated, will be an international one, in which probably some Germans will be interested.

GOLD MINE EXPLOSION KILLS THREE MEN

MEETEETSE, WYO., July 17.—Three men were killed and four were injured today, by an explosion in the Kirwin gold mine. There was no doctor nearer than Thermopils, 100 miles to the southeast, but Dr. Richards at that place covered the mountainous distance in a little less than 11 hours. Four relays were used by him in making the trip, ranchmen along the route supplying the horses.

LONDON'S NEW TRAMWAY WILL COST $120,000,000

LONDON, July 17.—A bulky blue book issued tonight contains the report of the royal commission on locomotive transport in London. The advisory board of engineers recommends the construction of two main avenues through London, 140 feet wide and between four and five miles long, carrying four lines of tramways on the surface and four lines of railways below the surface. It is estimated that the cost of construction will be $120,000,000.

BAPTISTS AGREE TO A WORLD ALLIANCE

LONDON, July 17.—The Baptist congress at today's session approved the constitution of the New Baptist world alliance. All unions or associations of Baptist churches can join. The executive committee will consist of seven members from the United States, five from Great Britain, two from Canada and seven from the rest of the world.

Mrs. Mary Woods Not Implicated.

In the issue of The Gazette of last Tuesday the name of Mrs. Mary Woods of Grove City, Pa., was used in connection with the names of two other women who were alleged to have been implicated in a case of shoplifting in McKeesport. There is but one Mrs. Mary Woods in Grove City, and as she says she knows nothing more of the robbery than what was published in the papers, she requests that a correction be made that will remove any suspicion that may have attached to her name.

Berlin Financier Is Dead.

BERLIN, July 18.—Adolif Frontzel is dead. For many years he was a prominent figure in the Berlin financial world and was a director of a number of banks. Emperor William, in pursuance of his policy of giving larger recognition to the commercial classes, appointed Herr Frontzel in 1897 to to a seat in the Prussian house of lords.

SUCCESSFULLY SWIM THE LOWER RAPIDS

Two Men Cross the Turbulent Niagara Stream in Good Time of Twenty-Six Minutes.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 17.—Carlisle D. Graham of this city and William J. Glover, Jr., of Baltimore, Md., successfully swam the lower rapids of the Niagara river from the American side of the whirlpool to Lewiston this afternoon. The distance of four miles was covered in 26 minutes by Glover.

The start was made at 4:02 p. m. from Flat Rock, which is on the American side. The swimmers did not venture in the upper rapids, where Captain Webb lost his life.

Both men wore life belts and inflated rubber rings around their necks. From the start Glover took the lead. He entered the rapids about a minute ahead of Graham. Until the Devil's Hole was reached the swift current and roaring rapids had the swimmers in their grasp. At that point a swirling eddy caught Glover and he was down nearly two minutes. His life belts saved him. Graham by this time had gained on Glover, and when the two men reached the end of the rapids just above the suspension bridge at Lewiston there was but a little distance between them. At 4:28 o'clock Glover was pulled up on the dock at Lewiston. He was dressed about 15 minutes later. Graham was taken to a hotel in a wagon and did not leave bed until late in the afternoon. Neither of the men was injured.

Graham swam the lower rapids twice before, first on September 7, 1901, and again on August 31, 1902. He is about 35 years of age, while Glover is about 35 years of age.

NO CLAIMS TO INVESTIGATE.

That Is Venezuela's Idea of It and Wonder Expressed at the Calhoun Appointment.

CARACAS, VENEZUELA, July 17.—Venezuelans were very much surprised on receiving the news that President Roosevelt had appointed Judge Calhoun a special commissioner to Venezuela to investigate the claims of Americans. The Constitutional, the government organ, says:

"If the claims of Americans or others existed they would have been already heard before competent authorities. It may be that the president of the United States requires information regarding the case of the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Company, which is still pending. All other cases have been decided by fixed commissions in conformity with the Washington protocols."

TWO BATHERS GET A ROLL.

Marine Police Officers Resort to "Barrel" Treatment to Save Life.

The lives of two venturesome bathers were saved yesterday by Pittsburgh's marine police. Officer Charles Ohliger of No. 8 police station, in charge of the swimming pool at Singer's mill, caught Andrew Harbaugh, 14 years old, of Sweetbrier street, Duquesne Heights, by the hair as he was going down for the second time, but lost him. The officer then made a dive for the boy and pulled him out when he went down the third time. The "barrel" treatment saved the boy's life.

"Midge" Barrett, aged about 13, suffered cramps when he went bathing in the pool at the Panhandle bridge, on the South Side. Officer Herbert Gardner rescued Barrett and revived him.

FUGITIVE TAKES TO RIVER; OFFICER WADES RIGHT IN

Detective A. W. Stewart of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company had a chase through water up to his neck in the bear trap at Davis island dam after a prisoner yesterday afternoon. Stiney Czpcar of McKees Rocks was caught picking up coal along the tracks, and Stewart started after him. Czpcar ran down to the river and plunged in, waded through the bear trap and across the back river. Officer Stewart followed him closely and finally captured him on Davis island.

HAS THREE RIBS BROKEN WHEN HORSE RUNS AWAY

A horse attached to a buggy in which William Murphy, aged 40, and John Rowse, aged 5, became frightened in Fifteenth avenue, Homestead, yesterday, and ran away. The horse attempted to turn a corner and collided with a water plug, overturning the vehicle. Murphy picked up the boy and leaped from the buggy. He fell on the pavement, fracturing three ribs. The boy was uninjured.

Two Colored Lads Are in Trouble.

Jacob Ward, 12 years old, of 6 Sweeney alley and Lloyd Walkin, 10 years old, of 5 Sweeney alley, both colored, are locked in No. 2 police station, charged with being suspicious characters. Camile Supanzo and James Roy, Italian laborers, were working on a new house in Colwell street yesterday. Their coats were hanging in the house, and some one took a gold watch and chain from Supanzo's coat and a purse with a small sum of money from Roy's coat. The watch and chain were found on the third floor of Ward's house, but the boys only had a few cents when they were arrested.

Cars Resume Regular Schedule.

The cars on the Homestead and Mifflin street railway lines running from Homestead to Lincoln place, were placed in operation yesterday, after a suspension of five weeks. The company's power house was struck by lightning during a recent storm and the plant ruined. New machinery has been installed and the line will operate a regular schedule hereafter.

NEW CASTLE, July 17.—(Special.)—A petition from the members of six local churches is now in the hands of Mayor Hainer, whom they ask to enforce the laws for Sunday closing of business houses. Under a special ordinance a penalty of $25 can be inflicted for every sale made by merchants on Sunday. The ordinance has never been enforced.

HEROES OF ARMY RECEIVE CERTIFICATES OF BRAVERY

Most Are for Conspicuous Gallantry in Action, but One Is for Soldier Who Nursed a Cholera-Stricken Comrade.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Certificates of merit for bravery have been awarded by the war department to a long list of soldiers in an order recently issued. A few of the most conspicuous were:

James Alexander, first sergeant of Troop A, Fourth cavalry, although seriously wounded in the shoulder while his troop was charging across the river at Rio Chico, Nueva Ecija, P. I., on December 6, 1900, continued the charge and greatly encouraged the men of his troop.

William W. Ballou, private Troop D, Fifteenth Cavalry, distinguished himself at Suciatan, Mindanao, P. I., in May 1902, when he and his captain and a few comrades became engaged in a hard fight with a band of Ladrones. His captain was killed and his comrades seriously wounded, but Ballou kept on fighting until the enemy was finally driven off.

Travis T. Bryan, sergeant Company A, Twenty-second United States Infantry, is awarded a certificate for gallant and meritorious conduct in placing himself in the gateway of a Moro fort where two officers had just been wounded by the fire of the enemy, which exposed position he maintained, keeping up a fire on the enemy, thus diverting the fire from the officers and enabling them to escape.

Thomas Caraher, of the Fifteenth United States infantry, was awarded a certificate for bravery at Tien-tsin, China, in July, 1900, for voluntarily carrying a message under heavy fire to the commanding general and returning with a reply.

Richard P. McComyn, a private in the Sixth United States cavalry, went out into an open field in the face of a heavy fire and rescued a comrade who had fallen, wounded.

James L. McMillen, Twelfth infantry, in July 1898, cut five barbed wire fences in a dozen different places, while under fire and not more than 200 yards from the enemy.

George Moreland, Company K, Fifth United States infantry, received a certificate for voluntarily nursing a comrade who was suffering from Asiatic cholera, while separated from medical attendance, thereby contracting the disease and endangering his own life.

EUROPE AROUSED OVER THE WHITE SLAVE TRADE

Twelve Nations Sign a Treaty for Its Suppression and Will Collect Data.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, July 18.—The Reichsanzeiger publishes the details of the treaty entered into between 12 European countries, which, having been duly ratified, goes into effect today. The contracting states obligate themselves to establish bureaus for the collection of information regarding the solicitation of women and girls for immoral purposes abroad. These bureaus are to exchange information among themselves, and a strict watch is to be kept, particularly at large railway stations and seaports, to detect persons engaged in the white slave trade. Efforts are to be set on foot among fallen women for the purpose of obtaining information about those engaged in the traffic.

The contracting states further obligate themselves to financially assist girls enticed abroad to return home. Agencies and persons advertising positions abroad for women are to be subjected to special police attention. Most of the signatories include their colonies, but Germany, Great Britain, Denmark and Spain reserve decision regarding their colonies until a later period.

WENT THERE TO LISTEN.

Simon Burns Refuses to Present a Proposition for Settlement of Differences.

CLEVELAND, O., July 17.—The troubles of the glass workers and Knights of Labor failed to be settled today. A delegation of the glass workers, now in convention here, called upon Simon Burns of the Knights of Labor and requested him to formulate a proposition upon which the Knights would consent to amalgamation.

Mr. Burns replied that he had not come to Cleveland to make, but to listen to a proposition. All efforts at an agreement were then abandoned.

Assistant District Attorney Krotel, who has charge of the prosecution of the Ahle case, and who last Saturday asked permission to examine the books of Town Topics, a weekly publication issued in this city, was informed by counsel for the Town Topics Company today that his request could not be granted. Following this subpoenas were issued for Special Sessions Justice Joseph M. Deuel, Moses E. Wooster and W. L. Daniels.

Edward Lauterbach, counsel for the Town Topics Company, later went into court and told Mr. Jerome that all the books in question would be at his disposition tomorrow.

HAMILTON'S
Immense
Alteration Sale of Fine

PIANOS

Last week we announced the necessity which compels the rapid vacation of our entire fourth floor. The increase in our business during the past year has surpassed every expectation, and in order to secure the space needed for the most rapidly developing departments—particularly that of grand pianos—we are compelled to dispose of the stock now carried in the rooms, which must be given over to contractors on August First.

There are at present over 100 upright pianos on the fourth floor. We cannot find place for even the half of these in the already well-filled rooms of the remaining five floors of our large building on Wood Street, therefore we must move them out of the building altogether. To store them means double expense in handling, as well as loss of time and some liability to accident.

Obviously the wise solution is to sell them, thereby saving all the extra trouble and expense. We realize that it requires an unusual effort to dispose of so many pianos in the limited time before us, but we also realize that if the inducement is large enough we can bring to bear aid an army of piano purchasers. Immediately—if you are a possible piano purchaser—you will say:

"What is the inducement?" The answer is: We offer you during this sale some of the finest pianos in the world—brand new—at a straight

20% DISCOUNT

Think what this means! We have not selected a few pianos for the purposes of this sale. We do not restrict your selection to the hundred uprights now on the fourth floor. We do not reserve a single new piano in the house.

Every New Piano Included

You can buy any new upright or grand MASON & HAMLIN, A. B. CHASE, VOSE, FISCHER, HAMIL-TONE, SCHUMANN, KURTZMANN, SMITH & BARNES, BECKER BROS., WILLARD, IMPERIAL AND CONSERVATORY PIANOS AT TWENTY PER CENT. LESS THAN THE MARKED PRICE. That simply means that we will give you $20.00 on every $100.00 that you invest here during this sale. Can you think of a stronger inducement that we could make?

MONTHLY PAYMENTS

This sale does not mean the increase of one dollar in our regular liberal terms. Because we have offered a special discount on our entire stock we have not increased the monthly payments by one penny.

The cash customer will find here an opportunity never before offered him. The customer whose convenience is best suited by the monthly payment system will secure the same freedom of selection, the most liberal treatment, and the smallest possible additional cost.

Our necessity is your opportunity.

Our loss will be your gain.

And we will also secure the room we need so badly just now.

Used Pianos, Organs, Piano Players and Small Instruments

Send for complete printed list of used pianos, piano players and such like instruments on which we quote prices this month as low as $20 for squares, $50 for uprights, $285 for grands, $50 for piano players, $15 for organs.

A. B. Chase, Mason & Hamlin, Fischer, Schumann, Hamil-Tone, Knabe, Hale, Chickering and other well known pianos included and Angelus, Playanola, Kimball, Pianola and Apollo players are listed among the piano players.

THE HOME OF THE ANGELUS.

KING OSCAR SAYS HE FORGIVES NORWEGIANS

That to Restore Union Forcibly Would Be to Hang Millstone About Kingdoms' Necks.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, July 17.—Dr. Hugo Ganz, correspondent of the Frankfort Zeitung, has had an interview with King Oscar of Sweden at Stockholm in which his majesty said he admired the way in which the Norwegians won to their side all the European publicists without, however, benefitting their cause.

"The wrong remains wrong," said the king, adding that the Norwegians had surprised him by the suddenness of their acts. King Oscar denied he had precipitated the crisis by declining to accept the resignation of the Norwegian cabinet, for the Norwegians themselves had declared that whoever accepted a portfolio would cease to be a Norwegian.

The correspondent remarked he had heard only words of respect for the king in Norway, to which his majesty replied: "For my part, I have forgiven the Norwegians and hope to God the Swedish president will also remain calm, for it would only be hanging a millstone about our necks to restore the union forcibly."

The king also said that appointing a Swedish prince to the Norwegian throne would certainly be the simplest solution of the difficulty, but the result would be distrust in Sweden or in Norway. Every time public opinion either in Sweden or in Norway was displeased with the sovereign's acts the cry would be raised that "The son does this to please the father," or "The father does this to please the son."

ZIEGLER MUST RETIRE.

Duquesne Councilman Who Furnished the Borough Supplies, Is Ousted by the Court.

C. W. Ziegler has been ousted from membership in the Duquesne council by order of Judge R. S. Frazer. Mr. Ziegler is associated with the firm of Ziegler Bros., lumber dealers. He was charged with selling lumber to the borough; furnishing teams and renting a lot to the municipality. The price charged was not exorbitant and Ziegler did not vote when council acted on the warrant.

Judge Frazer said the act of March 11, 1905, made it plain that a councilman cannot legally furnish supplies to the municipality of which he is an officer. The fact Ziegler did not vote for the warrant makes no difference, according to the court's opinion.

Sigsbee's Squadron Is Spoken.

PLYMOUTH, ENG., July 17.—The North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II., from New York, arrived here today and reported passing in latitude 44, 27, north, and longitude 37, 17, west, the American squadron commanded by Rear Admiral Sigsbee, which is carrying the body of Admiral Paul Jones from France to the United States. Admiral Sigsbee reported all well on board the American warships, adding: "Will be off Chesapeake capes July 22."

PRISONER HAS UNIQUE EXCUSE WHEN COMMITTEED

James Boyle, Charged With Beating His Wife, Says He Did It While Sleeping.

When James Boyle of Allegheny was committed to the county jail last night, he presented a most unique excuse for being in trouble, and received the sympathy of the keepers more because he was very original than for any other reason. Boyle is charged before Alderman Charles Von Moss of Allegheny with assault and battery. Mrs. Sadie Boyle, his wife, alleging he beat her.

"Well, if I beat my wife," said Boyle, "I don't know anything about it."

"Go on, now," said Deputy Warden John McNeil in his jolliest vein, "what are you trying to give us."

"It's straight," replied Boyle; "if I struck my wife I must have done it while I was asleep, for I don't remember having any trouble with her."

His Arrest Without Significance.

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, July 17.—Dr. Franklin Clarke, an American, was arrested here this morning for breach of the official secret service act. Some days ago Dr. Clarke was discovered taking photographs of the forts protecting Port Royal and Kingston. Before the court a local lawyer on the prisoner's behalf pointed out that Dr. Clarke's action was without significance. He was held in $500 bail for inquiry into the case.

Resignation of Police Captain Fredericks in preference to standing trial before the board probably precludes the possibility of a searching investigation. At any rate such seemed to be the sentiment in official circles last evening. The public will be somewhat disappointed, though it has come to philosophically expect periodical eruptions as long as the present administration of city affairs continues.

Coming to the defense of Controller Larkin with the billingsgate it ordinarily uses in lieu of argument, the Leader aims wide of the mark. This Leader and its owner have probably not waived damages that might be inflicted on their own properties by the cutting of the hump, and have certainly shown no willingness to pay benefits. They are in no good position to impugn other people's motives.

Misrepresentation is all The Gazette expects from the Dispatch, so it is not being disappointed. The misquotations made by that paper yesterday will mislead no one. Its attempts to hide behind its former able conductor will deceive nobody. Its interest in the hump cut is confessedly selfish and that is enough said on that subject. The business of The Gazette is with the public question and it does not propose to follow the Dispatch into the arena of profitless personalities.

An official organ in Caracas expresses the surprise of Venezuela that an American special commissioner has been appointed to investigate American claims in that country. All cases, it says, have been adjudicated by mixed commissions, except that of the asphalt company, and are finally closed. Venezuela may find it is mistaken. A case is not necessarily closed unless the adjudication has been right and just. Commissioner Calhoun may be able to decide whether the Venezuela cases have been thus adjusted.

Elihu Root has written a very interesting letter to Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia, advising him to enter prosecutions upon alleged strong testimony of misdoing, and withdrawing from further connection with the cases. Mr. Root clearly states the duty of the mayor, if the latter has the evidence he claims. It remains to be seen whether Mr. Weaver can produce the irrefutable evidence. The district attorney of Philadelphia has not thought it sufficient to warrant the institution of suits in the name of the commonwealth.

The decision rendered by Judge Henderson of the superior court, affecting the collection of orders for the support of indigent relatives is of great importance. In the case decided the court ordered what filial duty should have prompted without judicial decree. The order was evaded on the ground of inability, but on the return of manifest ability the order is enforced. The effect will be to lessen the effort to evade just orders for maintenance, and to save the public considerable expense in behalf of indigent citizens.

The death of W. W. Blackmar, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army, was not a cause for surprise as he, in common with all veterans of the civil war, was well along in years. Although his professional life was passed in Massachusetts, Gen. Blackmar's military record was made in a Pennsylvania regiment. It has come to be the custom of the chief of the Grand Army to spend his time in traveling so as to visit the posts under his charge. This was strenuous work for Gen. Blackmar, for he was a good orator whose speeches were always in demand, and speechmaking is wearing work.

News from Russia continues of a most disturbing character. Another mutiny on a man-of-war is reported, and a mutiny among troops at Lodz. These acts show no common inspiration. There is no cohesion of the disorders that have been so prevalent in Poland and European Russia. Yet the fact cannot be ignored they reflect very widespread and general disaffection of the people. Given a masterly leader and cohesive direction and the disaffection would at once assume the aspect of active revolution. In a repressed country, like Russia, the people are slow to come to realization of the power of their mass.

There is pathetic interest in the report that Former Speaker Henderson's mind is failing under the encroachment of disease. It is fortunate he decided to retire from public life when in full control of his mental powers, for there have been many men in congress who have held on too long to the detriment of public business. People who could not understand the late Congressman Boutelle's strange conduct as chairman of the house committee on naval affairs at a critical time in our country's history were enlightened when they learned he was mentally incapacitated. It is a wise man who knows when to release his hold on public life.

Wanted, Information.

Director Bigelow has promised to give to the chamber of commerce, today, full information regarding the proposed reduction of the hump. His outgiving will be awaited with liveliest interest, a keener edge being given public curiosity on account of the director's persistent evasion of pertinent questions when the 18-foot cut was pending last year. The matters on which information is desired are: The detailed estimates of cost of the physical improvement; exact list of waivers of damages by abutting property owners and whether conditional or unconditional; list of properties that may claim damages from which waivers have not been received; waivers from corporations for disturbance of tracks, pipes, or other property; list of properties that are to pay benefits, if there are any such.

An explicit statement on each of these points will enable the public to make an accurate estimate whether or not it desires to undertake the expense for the immediate benefit of interested property owners in that locality and remote, or uncertain advantage to itself. Nothing short of complete information on every point enumerated can satisfy the public desire.

It is known some of the waivers are unsatisfactory. That of Mr. Frick is conditioned on completion within a period of time not sufficient for the dragging character of public works. The mere opinion of the director of the department of public works affecting costs or time required will have no weight. His estimates on Grant boulevard were wofully wide of the mark; his management of the purchase and repair of the Monongahela river bridges, according to the testimony of his friends of the Dispatch, made them cost the taxpayers thousands of dollars more than they should have cost. These things have not been forgotten by the people and in this matter they will insist on having reliable information in advance. Glittering generalities will not pass current. Bring on the facts.

M. Witte, Diplomatist.

M. Witte has honored the American people by submitting to an interview for their delectation. In his enthusiastic regard for them, however, he has not overlooked a single interest of his imperial master and he can hardly suffer from the widest publication of his interview in Europe and Japan.

M. Witte openly declares he is for peace, personally, but on this mission he represents the emperor, not himself. The emperor is not for peace at any price. M. Witte is not for peace at any price. The Russian people are not for peace with dishonor. M. Witte addresses these remarks to the American people, but he cannot help it if Japan sits up and takes notice.

M. Witte does not deny that Russia is torn with internal dissensions. He admits it. Yet he reminds the western world that Russia is peculiar and while in a turmoil can be speedily united in opposition to a dishonorable surrender. If the eastern world reads his words and comprehends that Russia must have generous terms or it will not consent to make peace, it is not because M. Witte was addressing that world. The czar has chosen an adroit diplomatist to discover whether Japan can offer any terms that Russia can accept. It is a favorable augury. Yet it must not be assumed the mikado's wily advisers will be thrown into panic by M. Witte's terrible suggestions. They are probably as well informed as the Russian envoy on the exact conditions in Russia and the probable outcome of two years more of war.

Recreation for Canal Diggers.

Appointment of an amusement director for the Panama canal by Chairman Shonts has excited much discussion. Preponderant opinion recognizes the need of such an official to promote the mental and moral welfare of the large body of men to be employed, though there are dissenters. Until recently these matters have been left wholly to chance and the enterprise of private amusement caterers. Too often the vicious has predominated among the recreations offered for private profit. Better results should be obtained from systematic effort such as Chairman Shonts contemplates.

The need for the exercise of suggestion and actual effort to provide suitable amusements for the workers on the canal has long been obvious. Like most territories invaded by an artificial and temporary population, Panama will undoubtedly lack legitimate places of recreation for some time and the saloon or brothel, which always take the van in colonization, are not likely to promote either health or morality. The amusement promoters cannot divert all patronage from the questionable resorts, but they can see that others are provided. If there can be theaters, billiard halls and clubs started in Panama people will patronize them, but the government can hardly expect any charitable amusement to succeed. The average American is too independent either to be led or to be diverted when the object is too conspicuously artificial. Healthy Americans who can play band instruments will organize bands, those who enjoy tennis will find courts, while the golf players will soon be scouring over links on the isthmus and most of them will need no urging to follow natural inclinations. If the government intends to guide people in their amusements the work will have to be done with subtlety and caution or the ridiculous failure predicted by scoffers will be realized.

Mercantile Tax Fees.

Judge Robert E. Frazer has decided the county treasurer is not legally entitled to fees for the collection of the mercantile tax. In as far as Treasurer Collingwood is concerned the action has been an amicable one and it is understood he is willing to relinquish his claims to the moneys in question. For the benefit of other persons invoived Mr. Collingwood may feel it incumbent on him to carry the case to the higher courts, so the matter will be decided beyond further question. There will be no objection to such a test.

This matter of fees and salaried officers has been too much clouded in doubt. There has been negligence on the part of accounting officers in contesting claims so that court decisions have not been obtained to fully interpret the rather obscure legislation on the subject. The result is diversity in practice and the ultimate effect may be hardship for many who have followed too blindly the path of custom. It is high time every doubt should be resolved and that every penny due the public should be placed where it belongs.

The Korean Loan.

While Japan has been having its loans largely over subscribed in New York and London, it is a new revelation of its financial strength that Tokyo has over subscribed the Korean loan four times. It is just possible Japan may have borrowed more than it needed for ordinary war purposes and has applied the surplus to take up the Korean bonds. In any case there is proof in the incident that Japan is not pressed for money and is far from financial exhaustion—further than Russia.

Japanese diplomacy shows up in the Korean loan to as good advantage as Japanese finance. Every dollar of the Korean indebtedness is held in the Japanese capital as warrant for that nation's right to supervise Korean affairs. The money obtained is to be expended for the rejuvenation of Korea. This will be done under the direction of Japanese, so the funds will go far. Japan is fighting the war with Russia for self-preservation and extension of its trade area, but it is wise enough to build up the people over whom it has secured guardianship by force of arms. Russian occupation implied no special good to natives of the occupied territory. Japanese occupation carries with it education, internal improvement, industrial activity and commercial opportunity.

Chinese Missions.

The appointment of four Chinese commissions to study foreign methods may prove a matter of utmost importance, or it may dwindle to no significance. It is a sign that China is trying to awaken to modern influences. The question is whether the Chinese people are capable of being aroused, as the Japanese have been. The inerta of the older empire has been one of the marvels of recent years. Western progressiveness has been resisted with most fanatic obstinacy on so many occasions and in so many ways that many have decided it impossible to regenerate the Celestial kingdom. Yet the Chinese are not incapable of receiving instruction as we all know. Their resistance has been from a set purpose. Will they abandon that purpose. Will the influence of Japan bring the Chinese millions to a sense of their helplessness and the necessity for a new order of things?

We are hearing much of how the South Side was favored by free bridges. The South Side was promised free bridges as an inducement for coming into the city. It got them many, many years after. The Grandview avenue improvement is a case more in point and we charge nothing for the suggestion that it can be used with more effect by the hump cut promoters in their "campaign of education."

Gen. Linevitch is said to be ready to make a demonstration in force for effect on the peace conference. He may accomplish more than he desires by provoking a general engagement.

Caracas expresses surprise that President Roosevelt has appointed a special commissioner to investigate. Caracas may feel genuine surprise when the commissioner makes his report.

Having shown general incompetence in governing his people, the governor of Odessa blames the whole trouble on the Jews. A fair sample of Russian justice.

Because no perfect fender can be found the street cars may remain fenderless. In the traction lexicon there is no proverb about the half loaf.

District Attorney Stewart wants to know why and he will not be satisfied until he does. One slip does not make a fall.

China is showing fresh signs of waking up. Four commissions to investigate foreign methods at one time.

M. Witte is modest. He merely represents the emperor. And M. Witte is a clever diplomatist.

Abdul Hamid is reported at death's door. More rocky times for Turkey.

When there is no mutiny in Russia it is a dull, if not profitless day.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

I love you at earliest dawn, dear,
At noon, all night, and all day;
I love you, sweet, when I'm saddest,
I love you, too, when I'm gay.

In moonlight, sunlight, or shadow,
In prose, in song, or in rhyme,
In summer, in winter—Hang it!
I love you the whole blamed time!
—Commercial Bulletin.

That's the stuff—love her the whole blamed time, and just because you can't help it.

The sort of love that you have to be firing up all the time to keep it from cooling off is bothersome, to say the least; besides, it is apt to chill, and there is no such thing as thawing it out and making it as good as ever.

Warmed over love is no more satisfactory than warmed over victuals. These will do in a pinch, but one can't help thinking how much better they were when freshly prepared.

Second-hand things are hardly ever as satisfactory as first hand, although they may be just as good in a practical sense.

Widows and widowers are sometimes classed as warmed over and second hand, but that is hardly just or fair. Indeed, these are often better than when they were young and fresh. This is particularly true of those who have profited by experience and observation.

* * *

"Why didn't you keep up the discussion on old men marrying young women? There were a lot of people interested in that. I know of one girl who turned an old chap down after reading your article, and I was glad she did, for the man was one of the played-out sort, having worked himself nearly to death to get rich. I don't think she cared as much for him as she did for his money.

"I thought it would be a sin for her to marry him, for she was young enough to be his granddaughter, and strong and robust, while he was played out, just as all men are at 62 who have worked hard and not taken good care of themselves. He can talk as well as ever, but he is weak in the back and legs, and takes but little interest in the things that young people like.

"I told him he should take a woman as old as himself, but he allowed there would be no money in it. What he wanted was some one to take care of him, and if he married an old one he would have to hire somebody to take care of both of them.

"To my mind these old chaps just want somebody to take care of them, and bother with them when they get too old to take care of themselves."

* * *

This correspondent, who admits that he has his second wife, seems to have the right idea, but there are men of 62 who are fully qualified to become husbands to women much younger than themselves, yet they ought to be careful not to take them too young—say along about 40.

For old age and youth to mate is a clear violation of the laws of nature, and should not be tolerated. They can never become one, because they are physically and intellectually unequal, and unless they can become as one individual they cannot possibly be contented, and without contentment of mind and body there can be no happiness.

Worn out men and women are not fit to marry at any age, for they are practically invalids, and as such should be retired to the invalid's corps. Only those who are capable of building homes are really fit to marry.

It is sometimes the case that such as these have means sufficient to keep them, and by uniting their fortunes may live more comfortably. But what more is their marriage than a mere convenience, and marriages of convenience are not regarded as first class by first class people. At least society blushes and frowns when such things are mentioned, and our moralists never cease pointing to such marriages in foreign countries, where they are allowed, as evidences of social and religious demoralization.

* * *

Be not unequally yoked in matrimonial harness if you would prosper and be happy.

If you will take the trouble to look around and note that which you see, you will soon learn that unequal yoking in matrimony, in business ventures, and in anything in which two or more persons can join, is prolific only of discontent, failure and unhappiness.

You may be able to recall instances where men were taken into partnership just because they had money, or had a pull of some sort, and not because of their fitness for the business.

Did these concerns prosper, or didn't they go to pieces because the several members of the organization could not become as one individual?

This has been the cause of many serious failures in the business world, but these are a mere tithe of the failures of marriages due to the same cause.

Not long since a bachelor sent in a red hot screed on marriage, in which he declared that matrimony is the principal cause of immorality, crime and misery, and offered to prove his assertion.

Many are the crimes committed in the name of matrimony, but that does not count against true marriage, which was among the first, if not the first, social institution established on the earth. The object and purpose of the institution were plainly and clearly announced at the time, and these remain even now as then, and it is imperative that the institution shall continue to exist.

* * *

When love leads the way you may follow, secure in the hope that all will be well, excellently well.

But you must be quite certain that it is love's lantern you are following and not some ignis fatuus that will lead you into quagmires or bad lands, from which your chances of escape are very few indeed.

The most dangerous of these Jack-o'-lanterns is money. Its victims do not call it by that name, but refer to it as comfort, meaning that if they have money they can have everything necessary to their comfort.

No more delusive and dangerous notion ever crept into the mind of man or woman, for whosoever marries money is quite certain to wed misery.

There is but one holy purpose in marriage, and that is to establish a home whose light is love, and whose joys are expressed in the cheery chatter and merry laughter of children.

Here is happiness pure and simple, for it is sent from heaven as a reward for the fulfillment of the mission of man on earth.

All the money of all the millionaires combined cannot purchase this happiness, and many of the costly palaces that excite your envy haven't a tithe of the light of love that brightens and cheers the humblest of homes.

The torch of love was lighted at the altar of God, the fire of which is never quenched.

IT IS TO SMILE.

"It used to be impossible for me to save money when I was a bachelor."

"And now that you are married——?"

"I don't even try."—Cleveland Leader.

"You say there's no such word as fail?"

"I certainly do."

"Well, you'll admit, won't you, that there's such a word as assignment?"—Milwaukee Journal.

"Now why is it," asked his father, "that we celebrate your birthday, Willie?"

"Because I wasn't twins, I guess," replied the perpetrating youngster.—Puck.

We'll forgive the man that's thinking
The Japs have won the war,
And him who says the Giants
Are in the lead so far;
We'll even believe the fisherman
As to fish he never caught,
But no pardon for the sinner
Who says the weather's hot.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—During the school year which has just closed over 10,000 applications were received by the board of examiners for licenses to teach in the local schools, and nearly 40 per cent of the applicants failed to pass the prescribed tests. Excluding the applications for licenses as substitutes and as teachers in the evening and vacation schools, the number of applications refused exceeds the number granted. It is evident from the results of the examinations that the tests for high school licenses are the most difficult. Although there are many applicants, the number who are successful is always small. The principals' examinations have also gained a reputation for being difficult.

In the examination for women held during the past year there were about one-third successful, which was a better record than in former tests. Comparatively few of the teachers who seek principalships get on the lists. For such licenses there were 104 applicants, and but 27 passed the required tests. Owing to the decision of the courts and the by-law committee to the effect that the old grade A or No. 2 licenses and the license No. 1 issued prior to 1901 entitle the holders to teach in the last two years of the course, the number of applicants for the promotion and graduating class licenses is small. Seventy-six applications were received for graduating class licenses and 45 were granted. Fifty-five out of 135 applicants for the promotion licenses passed the required examination.

Deer and Dog Fight to Death.

There was a terrific duel to the death today in the buffalo range at the Bronx park zoological gardens between a savage St. Bernard dog and a fallow deer. The deer literally tore the dog to pieces with his sharp horns, but the beast clung to him in spite of the awful punishment, never relinquishing his hold on the throat until the pistol of a watchman ended his career. As the dog dropped from the deer's neck the latter staggered a few feet and then fell over dead. The watchman who saw the last part of the fight said that it lasted fully an hour, and that it was the most savage affair he had ever seen.

Squire Doesn't Favor Chinamen.

Former United States Senator W. A. Squire of Washington, now at the Waldorf-Astoria, is not in favor of any modification of the Chinese exclusion laws. He has no more use for the Chinaman than a child has for castor oil. "You wouldn't allow a man to set up a breeding establishment for rattlesnakes in Broadway and keep on breeding them until he had a few thousands all ready to let loose among the people in the streets and parks, would you?" he asked. "I've always considered Chinamen as the worst kind of rattlesnakes. There are millions of them, and once let them get the chance and they'll crawl all over you."

Cigarettes in Martha Washington Hotel.

There was considerable excitement on the fourth floor of the Hotel Martha Washington today when an awning caught fire and blazed up suddenly. A man passing through Twenty-ninth street saw the blaze and notified one of the employes of the hotel at about the same time that feminine screams from the fourth floor notified everybody in the house that something was wrong. The fire was put out with a patent extinguisher. The cause of the fire was a cigarette thrown from one of the windows of the hotel. Just which window it came from is something the hotel people would like to know. Ladies who smoke cigarettes are not especially desirable at the Martha Washington.

The Gallant Mr. Jerome.

On his way to his country home in Lakeville, Conn., on Saturday, District Attorney Jerome found Mamie Little, an 11-year-old girl, a fellow passenger. But she had been told by the conductor that she was on the wrong train, and en route to Canaan, Conn., instead of Canaan, N. Y., where she wanted to go. The conductor told the girl she would have to leave the train at State Line, the next station.

"I don't want to get off at State Line," cried Mamie. "I don't know anybody there."

"Never mind, little girl," said Mr. Jerome. "You remain with me. I will take you to my home in Lakeville, or I will send you to some nice people in Millerton." His invitation was accepted.

Begging Trade Pays Well.

Six men arrested in Harlem yesterday for begging in the streets were arraigned in Harlem police court today. Three of them were sent to the island for six months, two were discharged, while Michael Roccoro was paroled for six months in the custody of the Charity organization society, to the officers of which he must report every two weeks. Roccoro had nearly $50 in gold and bills when arrested. On him was also found a bank book showing $1,500 deposit. When his case was called his wife and daughter were on hand with a lawyer to defend him. The daughter was handsomely gowned in satin skirt, lace trimmed shirt waist, and picture summer hat.

Sunday's Record of Deaths.

Eight deaths by drowning in the Hudson and other waters near the city, and two daring rescues in Hell Gate, were the results of yesterday of the rashness of inexperienced swimmers in venturing into deep water. Five of these lives were lost in the Hudson, and among the drowned was a life-saver who was pulled under by a boy whom he was trying to rescue.

Goddess of Liberty Eavesdropping.

There are officers at the Brooklyn navy yard so ungallant as to accuse a woman of eavesdropping. They allege, and they say they have proved it by tests, that the Goddess of Liberty on Bedloe's island has been intercepting the wireless messages between the navy yard and the ships off Tompkinsville.—New York Tribune.

ARCTIC SEARCH

Commander Peary's Expedition to Search for the North Pole.

Before Commander Peary's Arctic ship Roosevelt sailed north from New York Sunday he outlined his plans as follows:

"I expect to get to Smith Sound, my old headquarters, by August, and will then make for Grant Land, which I should reach in September, where I will prepare for Arctic winter. I shall set up my headquarters there, and with my people, the Eskimos and dogs well rested, I shall be ready for my journey over the ice to the pole in February.

"If I don't get to Grant Land in good time I may—well, it's like this: I may be gone 15 months or 27 months or 39 months.

"It has never before lain in the power of a white man to make use of the Eskimos. I can do it. Why? Because I have lived with them 11 years; I have hunted with them; worked with them, fed them, saved their lives. I propose to change the habits of the whole tribe, to spread them along the coast, that they may hunt and store supplies for my party, and to take the pick of them with me.

"The crucial part of the scheme is that 250 miles of steaming through the ice pack to the winter quarters.

"What may be found at the pole no man knows. This is sure: there will be no abnormal conditions, no open sea, no Simms hole, no garden of Eden, no volcanic round mountain on which the earth revolves. There may be Arctic land; I don't expect to find it inhabited, but if there is sea it will be frozen for nine months in the year and a grinding ice pack for the rest.

"The value of it all? It is prestige, moral effect."

One of the Best Exploring Ships.

The Roosevelt, which will bear Peary north, is one of the best-built boats that Arctic exploration has ever known. Her dimensions are: Length on load water line, between perpendiculars, 161 feet; length over all, 184 feet; beam, maximum at load water line, 32 feet; beam, maximum, over guard strake, 34 feet 7 inches; mean draught, 16 feet, full load displacement about 1,500 tons.

The motive power is furnished by a single, inverted, compound 1,400-horsepower engine driving a single 16-foot screw. The ship will carry 800 tons of coal, which will enable her to go between four and five thousand knots at a 10-knot cruising speed. In addition to her engine, the ship will have sufficient sail equipment to make her manageable when under way without using the steam power.

The protection of the hull against ice is more complete than was ever before attempted in preparing for a polar expedition. The vessel is built to withstand very heavy pressures acting normally to the sides, bilges and bottom; and the shape of her cross-section is such as to tend to raise the vessel out of water as the ice pack presses upon her below water. A heavy white oak guard, 6 inches by 20 inches, will be worked abreast of the plank sheer from stem to stern and so securely fastened to the frames, plank sheer and waterway that it will be able to support the weight of the entire ship.

To take the worst of the rub of passing ice, the bow, the stern, and the water line will be armored. The bow protection will consist of one-inch steel plating worked from keel up to three feet above the water line and extending aft for ten feet. The stern protection will be of like strength, reaching from the keel up above the water line, and extending forward for 14 feet. The water line armoring, extending completely between the bow and the stern protection, will be of ¾-inch plating, 5 feet wide, 1 foot only being above board at load draught.

Peary's Previous Efforts.

Peary's Polar expeditions, ignoring Peary's first visit to Greenland in 1886, when he was caught by the Arctic glamour which has held him in thrall ever since, began in 1891, when Peary was escorted north by a party from the Academy of the Natural Sciences. He was brought home by the Academy in 1892, but went north again with Mrs. Peary in 1893.

The relief expedition of the Philadelphia Geographical society brought Mrs. Peary and certain members of the expedition in 1894, but Peary did not come back himself until 1895. In 1896 he made a summer trip to Greenland, intending to get the great meteorite, but failed in this and had to make another summer trip in 1897.

On both occasions he prepared the natives, who were devoted to him, for his great expedition—his fifth in this decade—of 1898, when he went north in the Windward. In 1899 the Diana, a relief ship, went north, but Peary refused to return, although he had lost three toes from his left foot and four from his right during his terrible experiences in the winter of 1898-1899. In 1900 Mrs. Peary went north in the Windward with Capt. Bartlett as the second relief expedition in this new series of Peary expeditions. Failing to meet Peary, she remained in the north during the winter of 1900-1901. With her was her little daughter Marie, who was born in Greenland, September 17, 1893, on the second Peary expedition.

The failure of the Windward to return in 1900 gave rise to much apprehension, which was allayed, however, when the third Peary relief vessel, the Erik, went up last year and came back with the Windward and Mrs. Peary all safe and sound, but leaving Peary in the north, and also Dr. T. S. Diedrich, who, having quarreled with Peary, refused to return. With the return of the fourth Peary relief expedition in 1902 with Peary another chapter in Arctic research closed without tragedy, as Dr. Diedrich also came home then, only to engage in a violent controversy with his former chief, which however, returned covered with glory, as he had made the high northing of 84 degrees 17 minutes in the frozen polar ocean in April, 1902, being surpassed only by Nansen and Abruzzi. Since his return in 1902, Commander Peary has been busily engaged in preparing for his final assault on the pole, being encouraged in his project by Mrs. Peary and a host of friends and admirers.

Where a Fender Saved a Life.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Sir:—In reading the daily paper, I notice that Director Moore is very much set against street car fenders. Last December I retired from the road as commercial traveler after 25 years of uninterrupted travel. I have seen quite a number of accidents, where, if it had not been for the fender, no doubt they would have resulted more serious, but I wish to speak of my own personal experience.

Last fall in Washington, D. C., I was unfortunate enough to be knocked down by a street car, breaking several ribs and bruising me up considerably. This car was going at such a speed that it went fully 50 feet or more ere it was stopped. My right arm and limb got under the fender. This fender was of an open-work combination, which allowed me to run the fingers of my left hand through the openings, thereby keeping myself from being dragged under.

Ever since, when I cross the street where there is much traffic, it makes me cold chills run over me to hear the bells of the cars ringing. I know of more than one instance where children have been picked up by a fender, practically unhurt, and if a child of mine was to be run over by a car and lose its life, where as a fender might have saved it, I certainly would feel that its life was more valuable than the cost of all the street car fenders in the world.

Reading of a little girl who was killed on the South Side brought to my mind my injury, hence this letter.

Respectfully yours,
EDWARD W. DRURY.

Negroes Growing Better.

From the Florida Times-Union.

We believe that the crime which generally called forth acts of mob violence has grown less frequent. The better class of the negroes have resented their influence and crime perpetrated by their race has decreased.

New Competitor for Railroads.

"It is at least certain for the railroads at this thing over understandable motive of automobile companies being formed to run routes through some of the country places as inter-urban lines for passenger hauls," said J. T. Feldman of Springfield, O., at the Colonial last night. "While there has been an uproar about the railroads being unfair in granting rebates on certain commodities and to certain shippers, it is time that the public should awaken to the fact that these railroads are paying into every state treasury immense sums every year for their right to operate. Along came the electric lines, at first in the cities, which was all right. Then they began to get free franchises over the country roads through some of the best sections of the middle west, and built roads to compete with the railroads in passenger traffic, and more recently in express and even freight business. That was unfair to the railroads, for the franchises were free to the first place and the cost of building the roads and of buying the equipment was far less than the standard railroad must pay for roadway and equipment. Now along come these automobile routes, with no roads to build at all and with small amounts to pay for equipment. One of these lines is about to be opened between Springfield and Jamestown, O., but I have wondered whether it will be worth while. The automobile fad, I fear, will pass away in time just as did the bicycle craze. The railroads are developing rapidly in new ideas of equipment and service, and I would not be surprised to see electric motive power in use generally on present steam roads within the next decade."

Pittsburgh Interest in Nicaragua.

While Pittsburgh capitalists have been interested to an indifferent way in the development of Nicaragua in the past few years there are now several financiers here directly interested. For the past week David Stewart, representing the United States and Nicaragua Company of New York, has been here offering to local moneyed men portions of the bond issue of $6,000,000 recently authorized. Within the past month Mr. Stewart says that he has disposed of about $2,000,000 in the bonds to individuals.

The company's work is not unknown to Pittsburghers. It has 8,000 square miles of land in Nicaragua, which was secured by a concession of the Nicaraguan government to James Deering. Mr. Deering was here Sunday and yesterday, conferring with Mr. Stewart and calling on Pittsburgh friends. There are three gold mines on the land secured by the company, one of which has now $2,000,000 worth of ore blocked out. This is the La Luz mine, which was opened by the Spaniards and worked by them for some years. The company also proposes the development of the large section into valuable farming and grazing lands. An ocean line of steamers will be put into service between New York and Port Limon, Nicaragua, this fall. Port Limon was formerly known as Cape Gracia a Dios and was discovered by Columbus when he landed there in 1502. It was changed to the present name in 1821.

Lincoln's Car Goes Begging.

The private railroad car built by the government for President Lincoln and used as the official one from 1863 to 1865, is begging for a home. This car, stored underneath a railroad yard, is standing on a sidetrack in the Chicago & Alton railroad yards at Joliet, Ill. F. H. Snow, custodian of the car, has offered the well-preserved relic to Lincoln park, Chicago, but the park commissioners show no interest in the proposition. The car has been the center of "Lincoln exhibits" at various expositions. After having been used by the martyr president during the war days, it was also used for the conveyance of his remains from Washington to Springfield. It was attached to the rear of the train and was draped in broadcloth with a silver fringe. The catafalque was placed in the reception room in the middle of the car. So far as can be learned the car has never been in a wreck.

Coolest Man in Town is Mr. Ice.

Not "Bones," to cause one to step his heels in 90-degree atmosphere, but "Ice," to make one forget the hot weather and be comfortable—that was the name of one of the natives of the Monongahela house last night. The name was good to look at and the man himself, W. T. Ice of Philippi, W. Va., was as cool as if his name had something to do with his weather temperament. And he was cool in human temperament also, a good fellow who did not object to his friends joshing him about his name and then becoming warm by laughing at their fun.

Dr. Johnson has been coming to Pittsburgh—and patronizing the hotel a patron at the Hotel—for two decades and more. He was recalling to some friends last night the old Seventh street district, for he says the new buildings that have been and that are to be erected there are much better for the city than the old class of houses. Dr. Johnson is a pioneer of the Allegheny valley and can delight his friends with many a tale of the early days of Clarion and other towns.

Arranging for Hotel Convention.

E. E. Bauserlie, proprietor of the Hotel Henry, returned last evening from Detroit, where he had been in conference with the Hon. Joseph Boudinot, treasurer of the State Hotel Proprietors' association, regarding features of the program of the second annual convention at Pittsburgh in September. Mr. Boudinot is president of the association. No announcement has been made regarding matters to come before the convention in a business way, Philadelphia hotel proprietors are arranging for elaborate entertainment of the state visitors. The manager of the Bingham house, where the convention is to be held, beginning September 25, has removed the roof garden of the hotel for three days while the convention is in session. Automobile rides about the city and suburbs have also been arranged.

Hotel Clerks Secure Quarters.

Peter Cuneo, clerk of the Hotel Henry and president of the Pittsburgh Hotel Clerks' association, announced last night that the association has secured permanent headquarters in a suite of rooms in the Washington block building, at Fifth avenue and Washington street. The meetings will be held at those quarters in the future. It is the intention to broaden the scope of the organization so as eventually to include all of the hotel clerks of Western Pennsylvania. The quarters are ample large to accommodate this growth.

COL. GUTHRIE IS PUT UNDER ARREST

An Overzealous Guard "Takes Up" the Veteran, and Laugh Is on the Colonel.

THREE BRIDES ARE IN CAMP

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM JOHN P. COWAN, Staff Correspondent.

CAMP JONES, ERIE, PA., July 17.—Col. R. W. Guthrie, president of the Duquesne Greys Veteran corps, Eighteenth regiment, was arrested on the streets of Erie early this morning and marched off in the direction of the guard house. His escapade was the result of meeting with an overzealous "rookie" on provost gaurd at the City Park square while a party of members of the veteran corps were returning from the Erie club to their quarters at the Reed House. The sentry could not understand why so many strangers should congregate in streets and called out the guard. Col. Guthrie is enough of a soldier to understand the humor of the situation and willingly accompanied the squad across the park.

"Say, ain't you Col. Guthrie?" asked the sergeant, after the prisoner had been marched 300 yards in the direction of the guardhouse.

"Yes, I'm Col. Guthrie."

"Beg your pardon, Colonel."

Just then the prisoner was released and was allowed to return to his apartments with the other members of the veteran corps, who are doing the camp. Few people today learned of Col. Guthrie's escapade and he was unmercifully teased at brigade headquarters where the story leaked out.

Great fear is expressed among the surgeons of the infantry over a possible epidemic of malaria. The swampy condition of the ground is declared to generate the disease, and after a few days symptoms of fevers are looked for.

Today was devoted to hard work. There were few visitors in camp and the boys stuck closely to their routine. The only diversion was the band concert given in the moonlight tonight by Vincent Nirella's Fourteenth regiment band. The star numbers were the sextet from Lucia di Lammermoor and the overture from William Tell. On the field the band has made a showing that eclipses that of the dramatic display of the massed bands. J. A. Rattigan, a well-known member of the Washington infantry, is drum major and his leading of the organization on the march has excited much favorable comment.

The Tenth band this year is playing "Dixie," the good old tune with which they used to cheer their Tennessee comrades under the palm trees of the Philippines. Gov. Pennypacker is said to be prejudiced against this southern tune together with that of "My Maryland," which the Tenth boys delight to play, and the coming of the governor on Thursday is anticipated with interest.

Among the guests of the Eighteenth regiments are three brides and they have been monopolizing all the attention. The new matrons are Mrs. M. A. Smith, Mrs. C. B. Mehard and Mrs. H. A. Persell. Mrs. C. C. Wiley and Miss Wiley are here, and Mrs. Lewis Anshutz will reach camp tomorrow.

At a meeting of the quartermasters before Maj. Anshutz this afternoon the program for the trip homeward was arranged. The Fifth regiment will leave at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon and the Tenth will go at 10 p. m. The two troops of cavalry and Battery B will leave at 8 a. m. Saturday. The Sixteenth will leave at 10 a. m., the Fourteenth at 2 p. m., and the Eighteenth at 8 p. m. Saturday.

BID OPENING MUST WAIT.

Important City Work Held Back Because of Mayor Hays' Absence.

The opening of a lot of bids on contracts for street and sewer work and the building of the Melanchthon street foot bridge, were scheduled to take place today, the charter requiring that the mayor and the director of the department of public works shall open the bids. Director Bigelow is on hand to do his duty, but Mayor Hays left on Saturday, two days before the bids were to be opened, on a two weeks' fishing trip. He will not return until July 25.

In the meantime the letting of the contract for the Melanchthon street bridge will have to wait. For five years the residents of that part of the Twenty-third ward have been trying to secure the footbridge, which is to cross the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio river at Second avenue, near the Glenwood public school. Councils have appropriated $5,000 for the building of the bridge.

PLEASING PARK PROGRAMS.

Patrons of Southern and Oakwood Are Offered High-Class Vaudeville.

There is a high-class vaudeville bill at Southern park this week headed by Amann and Hartley, who have a very laughable sketch entitled "The Naughty Professor." Miss Hartley has a very pleasing voice and in the sketch introduces a number of the latest songs. The Brownings are a clever comedy couple. Francis Wood, a juggler and hoop roller, and the Carmen Sisters, banjoists, are above the average. The cineograph closes the show.

Oakwood park has one of the big laughing hits of the season in Crimmons & Gores' new comedy, "A Warm Match." One of the best hits of character work in the performance is contributed by Miss Gore, who appears in a tough girl part. Throughout the piece are introduced a number of high-class specialties.

TAKES CHINESE CENSUS.

Inspector Thomas Finds Over 200 in This City.

Chinese Inspector Thomas has just completed a census of the Chinese in this city, said to be the first census of its kind ever taken here. According to his figures there are 220 Chinamen, three women and one child in Pittsburgh. Allegheny is said to have 30 permanent Chinese residents, while in the two cities there are said to be 50 transients.

Pittsburgh is the commercial center for Chinese in the surrounding country, and the 11 Chinese business houses here employ drummers, who regularly canvass this and neighboring states.

Neville Island Plant to Close Down.

The American Steel and Wire Company has ordered the closing down of the Neville Island plant this week for an indefinite period. This will throw some 350 men out of employment. Their contracts have all been filled and about 19,000 tons of metal is piled at the works ready for shipment.

An Honest Answer.

A workingman asked a successful Pittsburgh financier how he might invest his savings to best advantage.

The answer came without hesitation:

"Put it in a strong savings bank where it will earn 4 per cent."

"But how am I to know when a savings bank is safe?"

"They are all safe," replied the financier, "the laws make them so. You can determine the relative strength by comparing the capital and surplus with the deposits. The greater the capital and surplus in proportion to deposits, the stronger the bank."

The workingman made his comparison and the Peoples Savings bank, Fourth avenue and Wood street, now has his account.

It pays 4 per cent interest compounded twice a year and offers absolute security. Deposits are accepted in any amount from $1 up either in person or by mail.

BETHLEHEM STEEL IS MAKING GOOD SHOWING

Its Earnings, It Is Said, Will Be Considerably in Excess of $3,000,000 for the Year.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—While nothing has been given out as to the earnings of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, it comes from a good source that they are considerably in excess of $3,000,000 annually, and that this rate will be maintained throughout the current year. The shares of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation in the outside securities market have failed to respond to the statements that an initial dividend would be declared on the stock at the meeting of the directors next Tuesday. However, the stock is concentrated in a few hands and the holders do not seem inclined to encourage any movement toward bull manipulation.

If the earnings of the company are as large as claimed, they are equivalent to more than 20 per cent on the preferred stock, which amounts to $15,000,000. Friends of C. M. Schwab say that when the improvements and additions under way are completed, the company ought to show earnings of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 a year.

When the United States shipbuilding scandal was at its height, Charles M. Schwab informed the interests of that corporation that if they worked in harmony with him he would try and free them from a bad bargain. Mr. Schwab, judging from the present showing of the company, appears to have kept his word. The Bethlehem Steel Company has been the savior of the United States Shipbuilding Company.

PLAN FOR NEW CHURCHES.

Methodist Episcopal Union Votes to Purchase Lots and Will Apply for Amended Charter.

At a meeting of the Methodist Episcopal union, held in the chapel of the Methodist Episcopal building, Penn avenue, yesterday, it was decided to purchase several available lots in Lemington avenue, Twenty-first ward, and in the new suburb of Brookline, near West Liberty avenue, with a view of establishing two new churches.

It was also decided to apply to the courts for an amended charter providing for a board of directors instead of a board of trustees, and the establishment of an executive committee. It was also agreed to insert a clause in the charter in accord with an act of the recent legislature that provides that all property, real or personal, belonging to the corporation be held subject to the control and disposition of the lay members, or such constituted officers or representatives as shall be composed of a majority of lay members. Under the recent act, all churches and religious society charters not containing such clause within two years are to be declared null and void.

FOUL PLAY IS FEARED.

W. H. Miller of Carnegie Is Missing and His Wife Is Much Alarmed.

Another well-known resident of Carnegie is reported missing and those nearest and dearest to him believe he has met with foul play of some kind. The man's name is W. H. Miller, he is 60 years of age, and his home is at 229 Carothers street, Carnegie.

The Pittsburgh police were informed yesterday that Miller has been missing from his home since 3:30 p. m. last Saturday. He left at that time with $300 in his pocket to come to Pittsburgh and was last seen at 3 o'clock Saturday night in the Pittsburgh market house. He had some marketing in a basket and said he was going home. His wife feels certain he has met with foul play.

Miller is 5 feet 8 inches in height, weighs 150 pounds, wore a soft brown hat, black suit, new shoes, and had a dark mustache.

BATTLES HARD WITH THIEF.

Attempts to Rob Jewelry Store, but Encounters the Proprietor.

John Sleska, a giant Pole, is in No. 3 police station, Allegheny, charged with trying to rob the jewelry store of Shenkan Bros., 671 Preble avenue, yesterday morning. Sleska and a companion entered the store when only the watchmaker was in. While one engaged the watchmaker in conversation the other snatched a gold watch and ran out.

He was met at the door by Emmanuel Shenkan. The latter felled the big robber with a blow but was knocked down himself a moment later. Shenkan pursued the thief and overtook him. A desperate fight was going on when Policeman Charles Webb appeared. In the excitement the second thief escaped. The watch was recovered.

MANY ITALIANS GATHER TO CELEBRATE FEAST

NEW YORK, July 17.—More than 100,000 Italians today congregated between One Hundred and Fourth and One Hundred and Sixteenth streets, the "Little Italy" of New York, to celebrate the feast of "Our Lady of Mount Carmel." They came from as far east as Boston and as far west as Pittsburgh. From 50 miles around New York Italians came on foot, many of them barefoot, as a still greater penance. All day was spent in semi-religious festivities. Hundreds of the pilgrims were compelled to live in the streets, and 300 patrolmen were called on to preserve order.

MILLER MADE GOOD THAT HE WAS BEST MAN

OWINGSVILLE, KY., July 17.—It is stated here that John Miller of Breathitt county shot and killed James Grees and wounded James M. Thomas during a fight in a church on Fraley creek, Lee county, last night. Miller entered the church and announced he was the best man in the house. Grees and Thomas disputed it and the shooting followed. A mob formed to lynch Miller, but the sheriff landed his prisoner safely in Beattyville jail.

Groveton's New Industry.

The installation of new machinery in the new plant of the Lewis Foundry and Machine Company at Groveton, near Coraopolis, has been completed. The new equipment includes a plane with which the company will be able to handle castings of the largest size. They have just finished an immense shear to be used in a steel mill at Lorain. While not running double turn, a great amount of work is being put out, and the employes are making good time.

Roenigk's Hopes Are High.

The special councilmanic committee on artesian wells has been called to meet in the city clerk's office at 4 p. m. today. This is the committee of which Councilman A. G. Roenigk is chairman. Roenigk wants the city to bore artesian wells in the yards of public schools and every now and then the city administration makes him believe that it will permit his ordinance to be passed by councils. He has high hopes for today.

Gasoline Tank Explodes.

The explosion of a tank of gasoline in the home of John F. Alcorn, Walnut street, Versailles borough, yesterday morning, caused a fire which damaged the house and contents to the extent of $500. The adjoining house, occupied by R. B. Hackett, was scorched, but the flames were extinguished by a bucket brigade before further damage was incurred.

Plate Plants Resume.

The Pittsburgh plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, at New Kensington, will be placed in full operation this morning. The Pennsylvania works at that place began operations in all departments yesterday. Both plants will operate on a non-union basis.

ARTISTIC CAREER IS QUICKLY ENDED

George L. Carspecken, Protege of Andrew Carnegie, Is Killed by Fall Down Stairs.

WORK IN LOCAL GALLERIES

Word has just reached Pittsburgh friends of the tragic death, in Burlington, Ia., of George L. Carspecken, one of the city's most prominent young artists, whose work some few years ago so impressed Andrew Carnegie that he sent the young man to Paris to study, paying all of the expenses of his tuition. The young man's death was the result of concussion. On Thursday, July 6, he called on a sick friend in Burlington, and while standing at the head of a flight of stairs, was seized with vertigo. Those nearby saw him reel, but before they could reach him he pitched forward down the stairs, and was picked up unconscious at the bottom. He was taken to the Burlington city hostipal where he remained in a state of comma until last

George Louis Carspecken.

Saturday, when he died. He will probably be buried in Burlington, that being his birthplace.

The artistic future of George Carspecken was as promising, if not more so, than that of any of the present day artists of the city. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Carspecken, and the family home is in Charles street, Allegheny. The father is a civil engineer in the employ of the Philadelphia company.

The young artist, who was in his 22d year, came to Allegheny from Burlington with his parents when he was but two years old. He received his education in the ward and high schools of Allegheny. From his earliest school days he exhibited a talent for drawing and painting that attracted the attention of his instructors. His home is filled with the work of his juvenile days, but it was not until the Carnegie art exhibition several years ago that he sprung into prominence. George had painted a portrait of a young man, himself being the subject. It was offered in competition and was accepted as one of the collection. While this picture hung in the exhibition out at the institute the donor of the institution passed. Mr. Carnegie was immediately struck by the work. He examined the picture critically and made many inquiries as to the artist. Young Carspecken a few days later received a letter from Mr. Carnegie, and his joy was unbounded when the steel master offered to defray his expenses if he would go to Paris and study. George accepted the offer and remained there two years, finally being compelled to return home on account of ill health.

A year ago Phil Carspecken, George's younger brother, began to fail in health and the mother decided to take the boy to Burlington, her old home, in the hope that he would be benefited. In this respect her hope was realized, but the life of her elder son was lost.

Friends here say that some of George's best work has been done during the year that he spent in Burlington. His studies in Paris had whetted his appetite, and he was constantly busy with pencil and brush. It is intimated that the vertigo which caused him to take the fatal plunge down the stairs was superinduced by the hard work at which he had been engaged. It had been the boy's intention to bring some of his more recent portraits to Pittsburgh for the next exhibition. Whether or not that will be done now depends on the wishes of the parents. The family, in addition to the parents, consisted of two other sons, Phil and Paul. Mr. Carspecken left on Saturday for Burlington, immediately on receipt of the news of George's death. He said that the remains would in all probability be interred at Burlington.

CHINA IS WAKING UP.

Royal Edict Orders Dispatch Abroad of Four Missions to Study Foreign Political Methods.

PEKIN, July 17.—An edict was issued yesterday ordering the dispatch abroad of four missions to study foreign political methods. The missions will be headed, respectively, by Prince Tsaitche, who is of royal blood; Tai Hung Chie, second minister of finance; Shu Shie Chang, chief assistant to Yuan Shai Kai, viceroy of Chili province, and Touan Fang, governor of Huanan province.

The edict, which is vaguely worded, orders the envoys to visit all countries in the east and west, and study foreign methods generally. None of the men named speak any foreign language. The four missions will depart separately, on dates yet undecided.

NEW KIND OF HOLD UP ON FAR WESTERN TRAIN

COLORADO SPRINGS, COL., July 17.—Two thousanad people and four passenger trains on the Colorado Midland railroad have been held at tunnel No. 6, two miles east of Manitou, by a fierce South American jaguar. Miss Delmont, a passenger on one of the trains, became frightened and in endeavoring to scale a high cliff fell 20 feet, breaking her left leg.

FREDERICK RESIGNS HIS POSITION ON POLICE FORCE

Captain of the South Side District Quits His Place While Under Hot Fire.

As a result of the charges made against J. N. Fredericks, captain of the Fifth district bureau of police, last week, which was followed by his being suspended from duty by Superintendent Wallace until his case could be brought before the police trial board tomorrow, Fredericks has resigned. At 11 a. m. yesterday Wallace received Fredericks' resignation, which read as follows:

Alexander Wallace,
Superintendent Bureau of Police:
Dear Sir: I hereby tender my resignation as captain of the Fifth district bureau of police, to take effect at once.
I am, yours very truly
J. N. FREDERICKS.

Wallace, after receiving the letter of resignation, declined to state what charges had been brought against Fredericks and repeated his former statement that "Fredericks has been a bad boy." Fredericks was to have had a hearing before the trial board tomorrow, but Wallace says that so far as he is concerned the trial is not needed.

Up until the time the resignation was received both Wallace and Director Moore had stated positively that Fredericks would have to go before the trial board. It is thought Director Moore will not insist that the charges made against Fredericks be aired.

BAD ACCOUNTING GETS THE BLAME

New Castle's City Treasurer Is Alleged to Have Kept Imperfect Books.

A FAILURE TO BALANCE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 17.—The investigating committee appointed to probe the shortage of $3,758 in the accounts of ex-Treasurer Alexander C. Hanna, held a preliminary meeting tonight and decided to begin its sessions for taking testimony next Thursday morning. Morris Cukerbaum is chairman of the committee and the other members are J. J. Dean, Robert Whaley, D. N. Keast and W. W. Eichbaum.

The committee is vested with authority to subpoena witnesses, demand records and administer oaths.

Among those who have been subpoenaed to testify are ex-Treasurer Hanna, Miss Mina Miller, City Controller Lyman Hughes, City Treasurer John McCandless and Secretary Edwin E. McGill of the Lawrence Savings and Trust Co. All these will be asked to bring records bearing on the case.

Miss Miller, who was a clerk in the treasurer's office during the administration of Hanna, was at the meeting tonight, accompanied by two attorneys, C. H. Akens and Robert Aiken. She submitted a lengthy statement regarding the way Hanna's office was conducted.

Hanna was a plasterer before his election to the city treasurership in 1899 and his re-election in 1902, and had no knowledge of bookkeeping. Miss Miller said no daybook or cashbook was kept, and the money received each day was not counted. Hanna never cashed warrants on the city treasury by check, but used cash from the drawers. She never took money from the cash drawer herself, she said, but asserted that Hanna and his son, J. F. Hanna, often did. She said she did not have the combination of the vault. The janitor, she alleged, had several times found the door of the vault open upon arriving at the office in the morning.

Miss Miller's testimony before the investigating committee will be listened to with special interest. Hanna was bonded by the United Stats Fidelity and Guaranty Company of Baltimore for $50,000. Besides the amount of Hanna's shortage which must be made up to the city, he is short $15,000 of his own money, which he supposed was in the bank with the city's funds.

ICE TONGS ARE USED ON P. HERMES' FOREMAN

John M. Simpson Gets Gash in His Arm for Rebuking a Careless Ice Cream Packer.

John M. Simpson, night foreman at the Ohio & Pittsburgh Milk Company's plant, Old avenue and Tunnel street, was attacked last night by John Yonyick, a Pole. The assailant used a pair of ice tongs and a big circular gash was cut in Simpson's left arm. The other employes fled when they saw Yonyick attack the foreman and waited for the police.

Yonyick was employed in the ice cream department of the plant. Simpson went downstairs and thought Yonyick was packing ice cream carelessly. He told him to do his work properly or he would discharge him. Yonyick, after exchanging words with the foreman, seized the ice tongs and struck at Simpson's head. Simpson warded off the blow with his left arm but was badly cut. He called for help, but the other workmen fled upstairs to the office.

The police were telephoned for and Detectives Charles Aymer and Louis Leff and Special Policeman John Morgan responded. Morgan went downstairs, brushing aside the clerks and other workmen, who said Yonyick was dangerous. He found the Pole hiding in a corner. Simpson was lying on the floor unconscious.

Yonyick was locked up in the central police station, where he will be held as a suspicious person until Simpson can appear against him. Simpson was carried upstairs into the office and a physician put 20 stitches in his arm. Simpson recovered consciousness and was taken to his home in Hill street. Yonyick lives in Allegheny. The Ohio & Pittsburgh Milk Company is owned by Select Councilman Peter Hermes, who lives over the plant.

PUTS A "SUB" ON FOR THE EXAMINATION

Scheme a Short Measure Philadelphia Policeman Is Said to Have Worked to Get on the Payroll.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—Suspected of obtaining his appointment by fraud, Policeman Charles Curry, who measures far less than the standard height required by applicants for the police force, was suspended today by Assistant Director of Public Safety South, pending an investigation. How Curry obtained his appointment is a mystery, as the fact that he is under height is clearly apparent to anyone.

When he was suspected, Police Surgeon Angney, to ascertain Curry's real height, ordered him to take off his shoes. He refused, even after Superintendent of Police Taylor commanded him to do so. Baffling his superiors, he was allowed to go home, after being rigidly cross-examined as to his appointment.

It was afterwards learned that a man giving Curry's name measuring 5 feet 3½ inches appeared before the civil service board. Curry is only 5 feet 6 inches in height. The real Curry was ordered to write his name, and his handwriting was seen to differ materially from that of the mysterious "Curry."

According to Assistant Director South, both Lieutenant Milliburn and Sergeant Dennis knew Curry was under size when they put his name on the eligible substitute list of their district, and both officers will be summoned before Director Potter tomorrow to explain the matter. Curry was sworn in as a regular policeman last week.

PETERMAN'S ROACH FOOD.

A BOON TO HOUSEKEEPERS.

The most improved method to free a house of large or small roaches is to use the contents of a box of "Peterman's Roach Food" at one time. Shake it on joints so some of it will penetrate and remain to keep the premises continuously free. Roaches eat it as a food; it is the most destructive remedy on this earth to them, and it will not scatter them to other places to live on and multiply.

BEDBUGS—"Peterman's Discovery" (thick), a quicksilver cream, is invaluable to kill bedbugs. Apply lightly with brush on beds when apart, on backs of picture frames, mouldings, etc. It will remain permanent, and is the only remedy that they absorb and kills those that go over where it has been lightly brushed on. It will not rust iron, harm furniture or bedding.

"Peterman's Discovery" (liquid), in glass tins, handy to force in joints for quick application, will kill bedbugs and their eggs instantly.

"Peterman's Ant Food"—A strong powder to kill and drive away ants.

"Peterman's Rat-mouse Food" makes rats or mice wild; they will leave and not return.

Take no other, as none may be even more important than money.

HUMP BOOSTERS GET BLACK EYE

Public Service Companies Won't Stand All Cost of Lowering Pipes and Conduits.

TRACTION COMPANY WILLING

Director Bigelow yesterday got a hump waiver that wasn't a waiver. He used to say that the Philadelphia Company, the Allegheny County Light Company and the Consolidated Gas Company would stand the expense of lowering their pipes and conduits in the hump district. Instead, the companies named, yesterday offered to pay half the expense, the city to pay the other half.

It is asserted that even an anti-corporationist can see why electric and gas light companies would not be benefited by the cutting down of the hump. The electric fluid flows with equal facility up or down hill; artificial and natural gas flows a little better up hill than down hill. The costly electric light wire conduits and the expensive natural gas pipes are already in place and have been for several years. To be obliged to lower them 15 feet is not a benefit, so it is asserted, and, therefore, the offer to pay half of the expense is considered extremely liberal, for the companies might, if they wished, make the city pay all the cost and perhaps a bonus for the inconvenience they would be put to through the cutting down of the hump.

Bigelow Read Only a Part.

Of course, the news that the companies named would not consent to release the city from all liability, did not come from Director Bigelow. He did get a joint letter from James H. Reed, president of the Philadelphia Company, and from J. D. Callery, president of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, but in telling the reporters about it he read only that portion pertaining to what the traction company was willing to do, and did not say a word about what the other public service corporations would not do.

The Pittsburgh Railways Company will bear the entire expense of lowering its tracks. Of course it will, for as fast as the streets are graded down the company will lower its tracks by a system of undercribbing. If the company would not agree to stand the cost of lowering the tracks Director Bigelow could, if he wished, order the work of cutting the hump to be so conducted that the company would have to tear out its tracks, with their costly system of loops, switches and turnouts, wait until the hump was cut, and then relay the tracks. To lower the tracks as the grade is reduced will cost the company money, of course, but not nearly so much as it could be made to cost if the company acted obstreperously toward Director Bigelow.

The cost of lowering the gas pipes and electric light conduits throughout the hump district is estimated at from $200,000 to $300,000. Half of this sum will be only a portion of the million or so that will have to be added to the proposed bond issue of $2,000,000. The Central District and Printing Telegraph Company, which is the Bell Telephone Company, has some valuable work under the streets in the hump district. It is not considered likely that the company will sign a waiver of damages, for D. F. Henry, all powerful in the company, has not yet signed, and it is said will not sign, a waiver for the damages that will be done even to his hotel, the Henry.

Owners Might Get Together.

Director Bigelow is so strong in telling of the immense value the property on the hump and beyond the hump for squares out Fifth avenue and Forbes street will acquire, that the question naturally arises, Why do the property owners not pay for it themselves? To this the answer is made that they cannot be compelled, by law, to pay for the benefits. It was pointed out yesterday, however, that it would be perfectly feasible for the owners to get together, obligate themselves to pay for the improvements and agree to the appointment of an unofficial board of viewers, who would take Mr. Bigelow's figures of the cost of cutting down the hump and then estimate the damages and benefits, to be apportioned according to the street frontage, with special reference to the nearness or distance of the properties from the hump.

However, as it is the intention of the hump-cut boomers that a few millions shall be put into their pockets by the taxpayers, it is not considered that such a proposition will find favor with the owners, the speculators or Mr. Bigelow. Nevertheless, property beyond the hump is held at so high a figure in anticipation of the rise in values to be brought about by the hump cut, that it is estimated that if the owners of the property so greatly to be benefited would club together and pay only about 10 per cent of the increased value, the amount would be ample to pay for cutting down the hump and all damages inflicted on property, although it must be remembered that Director Bigelow asserts that no property will be damaged, but that all will be benefited.

President Callery Explains a Problem.

President Callery of the Pittsburgh Railways Company explained in an interesting way how his company would master the difficult problem of how to lower the tracks during the progress of cutting the hump, at the same time maintaining street car traffic throughout the hump district. Mr. Callery said the company would be obliged to leave the tracks where they now are, as to tear them up would be to abandon traffic in the district and after the work was done new ones would have to be laid, a most costly proceeding. The plan is to put cribbing under the tracks and lower them as the ground is dug away.

WEALTH AND WORTH ARE TO BE UNITED

Simple Services Will Attend Marriage of Millionaire to Settlement Worker.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—The long looked-for wedding of John G. Phelps Stokes, the millionaire, and Miss Rose Harriet Pastor, the former cigarmaker, whom he met in settlement work on the lower East Side, will take place at noon tomorrow in the Episcopal church at Noroton, Conn., where Mr. and Mrs. Anson Phelps Stokes, parents of the bridegroom, have their country residence. The ceremony will be extremely simple. The Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., secretary of Yale university, will officiate and there will be no attendants. The only decorations will be palms, oak leaves and daisies.

The bride will wear a plain gown of white mousseline de soie, the cost of which is within $60. Only 75 persons are expected to attend the wedding, although 200 invitations have been issued. The ceremony will be followed by a wedding breakfast at the "Point," the Stokes home.

Mr. Stokes and his bride will sail next Wednesday on the White Star liner Cedric, and after a tour of the Alps will spend some time in visiting the Ghetto in London, where the bride spent her early years, amid great hardship. On their return to this city in the fall they will take up their work among the children of the East Side tenements and will live in a five-room flat at Grand and Norfolk streets, in the heart of the Ghetto.

FINE FREE ATTRACTIONS OPEN WEEK AT LUNA PARK

Indian Band, Trained Elephants and High Wire Act Offer Exceptionally Good Entertainment.

It would be difficult to designate Luna park's leading attraction this week. The Government Indian band, an organization of 40 full-blooded Indians, who have become finished musicians under the sponsorship of Uncle Sam, gave an opening concert last evening that was replete with classical numbers and popular airs, excellently executed.

Lockhart's troupe of trained elephants, which come direct from the New York Hippodrome, and which have not been seen here for five years, have improved wonderfully in their education. As bicycle riders, bowlers, musicians, gymnasts and comedians they are equally successful, and manifest the greatest intelligence in every act. Sturant and Lavardo, high wire bicyclists, have an act that is both thrilling and amazing, and this bill of free outdoor attractions, together with the already well-known scenic beauty of the "city of light," offers recreation and amusement well worth 10 times the entrance fee of 10 cents.

The permanent park attractions, almost without exception, have introduced changes this week that offer pleasing variation to those who have visited them previously. The Scenictorium is giving a new show with a truly funny moving picture series, entitled "The Suburbanite;" the infant incubators are showing a diminutive one and one-half-pound babe; Arcadia has a new illusion; "Dida" is the name of a new mystery show; the "Bijou" is a pleasing show that opened last night, while the Oriental theater, the Parisian diorama, Electric theater, Chateau Alphose, Ziz and the Japanese theater become stimulated with sufficient newness to lend additional attractiveness.

The Juniata Street German Lutheran church Sunday school held their annual picnic in the park yesterday afternoon and came 1,000 strong; the Observatory Hill Christian church Sunday school of Allegheny will hold their annual outing in the park this afternoon. The attendance last night numbered over 6,000, among which the fashionable element was largely represented.

Next Monday promises to be a big day at the park, when a monster benefit is to be given in behalf of the Newsboys' home. From the kindly spirit already shown among business men and the public generally, it is believed that enough will be realized to wipe out the outstanding obligations and give the organization opportunity for raising a nucleus for a building fund to further the philanthropic work it has so well undertaken.

WHEN CHASED BY POLICEMAN WOMAN RUNS OVER HOUSETOP

Policeman William Devlin last night chased a woman over the roofs of three houses in Penn avenue, but failed to catch her. Lieut. Ford took a squad from No. 3 station to raid the alleged disorderly house of Mrs. Martin Sullivan at 5 Spring alley. When they entered a woman supposed to be Mrs. Sullivan disappeared through a trapdoor in the roof, and running over the tops of two other houses, entered an attic window at 1136 Penn avenue. She was pursued into the house by the officer, but made her escape. A man and a woman were taken from the Sullivan house and charged with being inmates of an immoral resort.

Every word of this advertisement will interest the ambitious person who want to get ahead in the world. HOW $700 EARNED $50,000

Many people do not know about the wonderful growth in Real Estate values at Atlantic City. In making title for property 50x150 feet sold at Atlantic City, a few months ago for $50,000, the records show that this property was bought not many years ago for $700. A property that was bought five years ago for $6,000 was sold a few weeks ago for $150,000. These are only two examples. There are innumerable others of just this kind. A conservative estimate shows that within the past twelve years Atlantic City Real Estate values have risen over 800 per cent., and are still rising, because Atlantic City has practically outgrown the boundaries of the island on which it stands. There is no more available space, and it must expand inland, just as all great cities grow out to and absorb their suburbs. The nearest and most desirable suburb to Atlantic City, with land available for building purposes, is Pleasantville Terrace. The place that has attracted thoughtful investors and home builders from all over the world.

Cottages along the railroad.

"Pleasantville Terrace, the Natural Suburb of Atlantic City,"

SAYS FRANKLIN P. STOY, MAYOR OF ATLANTIC CITY.

I regard Pleasantville Terrace as the natural suburb of Atlantic City. There can be no extension of the seacoast, therefore the city must expand landward. Being located on high ground, with unusual trolley and railroad facilities, there is every reason why Pleasantville Terrace should enjoy the same marvelous increase in values which has made Atlantic City the most noted Real Estate investment in the world.

Atlantic City, N. J., August 6, 1904. (Signed) FRANKLIN P. STOY.

Summer residence of a Washington family.

NATURAL ADVANTAGES

Pleasantville Terrace is the highest natural ground in or near Atlantic City. There is not a foot of swamp land on the property. Geological survey shows an altitude of 55 feet above Atlantic City. The climate is ideal, combining ocean breezes with the invigorating air from the pine and oak trees growing there. It adjoins Pleasantville, with churches, schools and all city conveniences. It is an ideal location for a Summer home, where one may enjoy the pleasures of Atlantic City without hotel expenses or annoyance of boarding houses.

ELEVEN MINUTES TO ATLANTIC CITY

The main line of the Atlantic City Railroad (Reading System) runs directly through this property, with the famous Atlantic City boardwalk only 11 minutes from Pleasantville Terrace depot. See Reading R. R. timetable. All trains, except express, stop at Pleasantville Terrace, or one may go to Atlantic City by trolley for five cent fare from Pleasantville.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS

Unlike many real estate operations, this company agrees to develop Pleasantville Terrace, and make it an ideal suburb. Note accompanying illustrations of building activity now under way in every section of the property. We offer special premiums and lend material assistance to those who will build at once. Thousands of dollars have already been spent by the company for improvements. Free excursions are run at frequent intervals from Atlantic City to enable lot owners to see the character of improvements.

We make no charge for deed. No mortgages. No taxes until 1906. If you die before lot is paid for we issue deed to your heirs, without further payments.

Built by a Philadelphian.

An Exceptional Investment.

Every one who knows anything about Atlantic City knows that land there for building purposes has grown scarcer each year. We anticipated this condition several years ago by purchasing the General Doughty Estate on the main land, the present site of Pleasantville Terrace. If we had to buy this land today, we would have to charge three times the prices we now ask for Pleasantville Terrace lots. Just think of it! A building lot, eleven minutes from the country's greatest coast resort, for prices and terms like these.

1 Lot costs $30—$1 Down and $1 Weekly

THE PIRATES ADMINISTER A BITTER DOSE TO M'GRAW'S GIANTS

NOT ONE GIANT PASSES SECOND

Deacon Phillippe Pitches Marvelous Ball and New York Suffers a Shutout.

WAGNER'S GREAT HOME RUN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—Deacon Phillippe was the Pirates' white-haired boy today at the Polo grounds. With the thermometer almost bursting, so intense was the heat at the Harlem meadow, the South Dakota twirler fairly swept the Giants off their feet with his bewildering speed, and not one of the champions got further than second base during the nine innings. Score—Pittsburgh, 3; New York, 0.

This afternoon's victory was a clean-cut one. Wagner's home run in the eighth inning, on which Beaumont scored ahead of him, was the genuine thing, and would have counted for four furlongs on any grounds in the National league. There was none of the "fluke" about it, as in Browne's home of Saturday, which bounded into the right field bleachers, which on any other grounds would have counted for a good, healthy single. Hart's drive went into the left field stands. It was probably the longest hit of the season, and had the big German been at Exposition park the cheering and applause could not have been more genuine.

Ames, who is the leading box-man in the National league, was touched up quite freely, more so than the score indicates. The Pirates kept going after him, but with no continuity, their bingles being scattered until the eighth inning, when, in the opening frame, Wagner's drive and a double scored the visitors' first run, this one tally being lonesome on the scoreboard. It, however, looked big to the Giants, who, try as they could, were unable to make a respectable attempt at tieing the score.

The game was marked by kicking in the early stages, Clymer taking the count right at the start, and he spent the balance of the afternoon in the shadow of "Coogan's bluff." Leach took his place in right field. In the third inning, on Clarke's good return to Brain of Browne's single to left, Gilbert was caught trying to make third. This decision resulted in another passage at words, McGann and other New York players doing the talking. After a few oratorical exchanges quiet was resumed.

Leach carried off the honors for the day for his side. The diminutive third-baseman had five chances in right field. He accepted them all with the same ease and grace that characterized his work around the three-quarter station, notwithstanding every chance brought forth great sprinting ability. In the fourth Devlin made a spectacular play. Wagner drove a liner over third, which Devlin speared after a high jump.

Clymer in the first inning did not think well of Umpire Johnstone's decision on calling him out on strikes and was ordered off the field. Further talk ensued, which served only to delay the game. Clarke also struck out. Leach fared better and smashed a hot one through Ames for a single. Wagner's swift bounder was taken care of by McGann. After Howard had struck out in the second inning, Brain ripped off a hot one through short, which, by the way, was his first safe hit of the season on the Polo grounds. Ritchey followed this with a two-base wallop to deep left, which allowed Brain to trot home. Peitz' smash was taken by Devlin, Ritchey going to third on the out. Gilbert gathered in Phillippe's grasser and nailed the pitcher at first, ending the inning.

After this tally the Pirates could do very little with Ames until the eighth inning. Beaumont started the scoring in this inning with a pretty single to left. Ames was too much for Clarke, and the visitors' captain took the bench for his, but Beaumont stole second on the strike-out. Leach flied to Devlin and "Ginger" took third easily. With Beaumont on third and Wagner at bat, Ames got a bad attack of rattles. His nervousness was plain to the spectators, and Wagner was there to do or die. The big German let a couple go by him. The next one came sailing up not exactly where he liked them. This made no difference, however. He reached for it and sent it away over the deep left field fence for a home run, sending Beaumont in ahead of him.

This rap seemed to take all the fight out of the Giants, who have been making eighth and ninth-inning finishes on two or three occasions during the last week. Howard ended the inning by flying out to Devlin. The Giants found second base their limit in their attempt to score. They got a taste of what was coming to them in the opening inning, when Phillippe fanned both Browne and Donlin, the first batters up. In the ninth inning Browne, the first man up, was implored by the fans to repeat his stunt of Saturday, but the best he could do was a weak grounder to Ritchey, who threw him out at first. Donlin and McGann, the next two batters, were easy outs, which ended the game. Score:

ALTOONA BEATS RIVAL FROM THE FLOOD CITY

Pitcher Good is Wild and His Support Not the Best—Williamsport Beats Harrisburg.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ALTOONA, July 17.—Altoona hit Pitcher Good today when hits meant runs, winning a listless game from Johnstown in easy fashion. All the luck was with the home team, too, as every little slip-up by the visitors proved disastrous. Good's bases on balls were costly, as they were invariably followed by a hit or two. Plank kept the visitors' hits well scattered. Score:

HOMESTEAD TIES SERIES WITH BRADDOCK TEAM

Pat Eastley Pitches Great Ball for Risher's Team and Braddock Suffers a Shutout.

Homestead tied the series with the Edgar Thomson works team of Braddock yesterday at Edgar Thomson park by defeating the latter 3 to 0. The series now stands 4 to 4. In but one inning was Homestead able to score and made their three runs, and this was accounted for by a base on balls, an error, two singles and a hit by pitcher. Brookmiller pitched well for Braddock, allowing but three hits and striking out 10 batters, while Eastley pitched great ball for his team. He allowed five hits and most of these were scattered, no two of them coming in one inning. The Edgar Thomson Works team hit the ball hard, but sensational fielding on the part of the visitors cut off several runs and saved the game.

Braddock had all the hard luck, and every time there was a chance to score some sensational fielding would cut this short. Unrue for Edgar Thomson Works hit well, having two hits, and Kennoy at short played well, accepting 10 chances without a miss. Collins at second also performed well and made several sensational plays. Braddock plays Keller today, and Wednesday, Thursday and Friday they go to Steubenville for two games and Saturday they play McKeesport at the latter place. Score:

JURY QUICK TO REACH VERDICT

Thirteenth Ward Ballot Box Stuffers Are Convicted, and Remanded to Jail.

COUNTY TREASURER LOSES

Thomas W. Davis, James Smith and Charles Crawford were tried and convicted in criminal court yesterday on a charge of conspiracy growing out of the election in the Fourteenth district of the Thirteenth ward, in February last. As soon as the verdict was rendered the prisoners were turned over to the sheriff and removed to the jail.

The case was tried before Judge J. A. Evans. John Marron had charge of the prosecution and Ralph Tannehill appeared for the defense.

Frank Lynch, the prosecutor in the case, was the first witness. He said Davis marked his ballot and put it in the box before the polls opened. Objections were made to this and Davis sat on the box, refusing to allow it to be opened. He was pulled off finally and the box being opened was found to contain 104 ballots marked in the Republican column. Constable Frank Grady and Lynch arrested Davis, Smith and John Schniper, the latter a clerk of elections and they were sent to the police station. Constable Grady corroborated this evidence. Patrick Campbell, a Democratic overseer, told a similar story and said Smith had 25 ballots in his pocket when searched at the station house.

Adam Witzkasky, a policeman, said the door of the polling place was locked when he got there. Davis called out that no one but the election board would be admitted. A member of the board came along and they forced their way in. Davis took a ballot, said it was 7 o'clock, and said he was going to vote.

Jumped on Ballot Box.

The witness said it was only 6:45 and others drew their watches. Davis voted and was put out. He came back and jumped on the ballot box, was pulled off and finally arrested. Some one hit Davis as he was being taken out. The witness arrested Patrick Dwyer. Some one hit him and the witness said the blow caused death. At the time a coroner's jury found heart failure to have been the cause.

John Kinney had counted the ballots found in the box. They were sent to Assistant Superintendent Edward Kennelly of the bureau of police. Edward Price said before the polls opened he saw Crawford cutting ballots and Davis folding them. Several other witnesses gave similar testimony and Frank Lynch produced the ballots. He said they had been taken to the department of public safety and kept there.

James Smith, one of the defendants, said Davis voted before 7 o'clock. He denied putting ballots in the box. He had taken the ballots, etc., to the polls that morning when Davis, Crawford and Dwyer were there. Davis, when placed on the stand, said it was 7 o'clock by his watch when he voted. He gave his account of the trouble and declared he had said when he sat on the box, that it would only be opened in court. He asserted that he only put one ballot in the box. Crawford followed on the stand, but could tell little about the election.

Say Davis Was Troublesome.

Several character witnesses were heard for Crawford and the prosecution offered some evidence to show that Davis made trouble at every election. The case went to the jury without argument, and the verdict of guilty was brought in within an hour. All the accused had been out on bail, but the court turned them over to the sheriff.

Davis, Smith, Crawford, John Schniper and Thomas Jones are on the trial list for today to answer to a misdemeanor growing out of this trouble. It is probable that, in view of yesterday's verdict, this case will be dropped.

The fees paid by merchandise dealers and brokers to the county treasurer in the collection of mercantile taxes go to the county under an opinion handed down by Judge Robert S. Frazer of common pleas court No. 2, yesterday. The opinion was in an amicable suit entered by Controller R. J. Cunningham, against County Treasurer D. F. Collingwood. The county treasurer collects the mercantile taxes for the state and has received a commission from the state and a fee from each dealer and broker. Judge Frazer, in his opinion, says that the treasurer, in May, 1905, collected license fees to the amount of $23,784 58, which he paid to the state treasurer, and on which he received a commission. In addition he received from each dealer in merchandise a fee of 50 cents, and from each broker a fee of $1, amounting to $1,035 50, which he retained. The controller claimed these fees should go to the county and the treasurer held that as he was acting as an agent of the state the county had no right to receive them.

Not Claimed by State.

Judge Frazer says that the fees are not claimed by the state and cannot be considered as part of the treasurer's compensation for collecting the tax, as that was fully paid by the commission allowed. The fees came to him clearly in his character as county treasurer, even in no manner incident to his office as agent of the state, nor were they his as an individual. As he is a salaried officer in a county containing more than 150,000 inhabitants the fees must be paid into the county treasury.

District Attorney Robert E. Stewart secured an order of court from Judge John M. Kennedy referring the cases of Alderman Isaac A. Levy of the Eighth ward and ex-Alderman E. C. Barton of the Seventh ward, who were charged with conspiracy, to the September grand jury. The cases were ignored by the June grand jury, but the matter was kept so secret that District Attorney Stewart did not learn that the bills were ignored until Saturday. Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb, Jr., presented the matter to Judge Kennedy and asked that the bills, which, he said, had been ignored through inadvertence, be sent back to the grand jury for consideration.

Judges Scores a Jury.

Judge John M. Kennedy, in criminal court, gave a jury, which had returned a verdict of acquittal in a case of selling liquor illegally, a severe raking. Eleonora Goings, a negro, had been tried for conducting a "speakeasy" on the "hill." Half a dozen witnesses testified to buying liquor in the place, and the case was given into the jury's hands without a defense being offered, so conclusive was the evidence. To the surprise of all, the jury, after being out a short time, returned a verdict of not guilty, and placed half the costs on the prosecuter. Judge Kennedy showed his disgust at the verdict, and, calling the jurors before him, gave them a severe reprimand, telling them it was beyond him that they could find such a verdict under the evidence.

Other cases disposed of were: J. E. Bonnett, felonious assault, acquitted; Andrew Wehrle, misdemeanor, convicted; Charles Beible, malicious mischief, acquitted; Louis Henshel misdemeanor, acquitted; Reuben Sterngold, false pretense, acquitted; Samuel Crez, defrauding a boarding house keeper, acquitted; Henry Watson, misdemeanor, pleaded guilty, fined $100 and costs.

Jahn Nearly Gained His Liberty.

An effort, which for a time promised to be successful, was made by Mrs. J. Henry Jahn to have her husband released from jail where he has completed his six months' sentence, imposed by Judge J. A. Evans, and is being held on account of costs growing out of the numerous cases against him. At the time Jahn was sentenced a fine of $50 and costs, in addition to the term of imprisonment, was imposed. Yesterday Mrs. Jahn called at the sheriff's office and stated that she wanted to pay the $50 fine and have her husband released. Sheriff Dickson told her that all the costs against Jahn would have to be paid. Mrs. Jahn then went before Judge Evans, in company with Deputy Sheriff James Haggerty, and the case was explained to him. Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb, Jr., after discovering that Jahn had served two months for costs, advised that an order be made releasing Jahn on the payment of $50 fine and costs. Mrs. Jahn went to the sheriff's office and secured a receipt for the money, which she brought back to the courtroom. During her absence it was discovered that in six of the cases against him, which were nolle prossed, he had promised to pay the costs. Mrs. Jahn was then informed that unless these costs, amounting to over $100, were paid her husband could not be released. She then demanded the $50 fine and costs she had paid at the sheriff's office, but the money was refused her.

Leaves Estate to Nephew.

The will of Alexander Heyl, filed yesterday, leaves his estate to a nephew, Tripnon D. Heyl. The testator died in Los Angeles in April last. He had about $4,000 on deposit in Pittsburgh. Mary J. Boden leaves a house in Kirkpatrick street, Allegheny, to her daughter, Annie E. Boden; a lot in Millvale and $50 to Mrs. Mary J. Young, and $25 each to her sons William G. and James H. Boden. The residue of the estate goes to Annie E. Boden.

A bill in equity has been filed by the borough of Edgeworth against the borough of Leetsdale. The two boroughs were recently formed out of a portion of Leet township. Edgeworth claims that Leetsdale has secured more than its share of the township assets and a master is asked to adjust the indebtedness.

Judge John D. Shafer in quarter sessions court handed down his decision on the application for transfers of liquor licenses, as published Sunday. Out of 21 requests, 18 were granted, two were withdrawn and one refused. Charles K. Gallant, who wanted his license transferred from 244 Eighth avenue to 1190 Ann street, Homestead, was the unlucky man, being refused a transfer. The withdrawals were William C. Eckbreth, who asked that his license be transferred from 168-170 Baldwin street to 150-152 on the same street, Hays borough, and John C. Sullivan from lot 16 to 823 Braddock avenue, Third ward, East Pittsburgh. This will be the last list of liquor license transfers handed down until September.

Wants Custody of Children.

A partial hearing was held in common pleas court No. 2 on the petition of Mrs. William A. Golden to get possession of her four children, which are in their father's possession under an order of court made some time ago. Attorney Golden, their father, placed the children in St. Joseph's protectory, and they were all in court yesterday. Testimony was taken to show whether, by complying with the mother's request, the children's condition would be bettered. The hearing will be continued today.

William T. Stevenson answered the divorce suit brought by his wife, Elizabeth Stevenson, making several denials of the charges.

The formal order was made yesterday detailing Judge J. A. Evans to hold court during the summer. All the common pleas courts will reopen in September.

The master in the divorce suit of Edna R. McKinnon against Robert Y. McKinnon has recommended a decree on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment.

Judge James S. Young made a decree in the divorce suit of Frederick Schade against Elizabeth Schade on the grounds of desertion.

Suit was entered in the United States circuit court yesterday by the American Hoist and Derrick Company and Oliver Crosby of St. Paul, Minn., against the Pittsburgh Gauge and Supply Company, Oil Well Supply Company and the Fitler & Todd Company of Pittsburgh. The suit grows out of an alleged infringement on a patent in wire rope clamps, the invention of Crosby, who sold an undivided one-half interest to the American Hoist and Derrick Company. It is averred by the plaintiffs that the defendants are making, using and selling the clamps.

The Motor Truck Company and the Pressed Steel Car Company of New York entered suit yesterday in the United States circuit court against the Standard Steel Car Company of Pittsburgh. The suit has been brought for an alleged infringement on a patent for car door mechanism.

An order was made in common pleas court No. 2 yesterday refusing an injunction and to appoint a receiver in the case of the Iron City Trust Company against J. D. Bernd and S. M. Rose.

Executions were issued as follows: John Henry O'Donnell, use, vs. George E. Snyder, notice, $1,669; same, use, vs. same, notice, $1,642; Harris, Barton, et al., assignees, vs. Theodore S. Barton, et al., $1,674; Max Markowitz vs. A. L. Hipps et al., $490.

GOVERNMENT MUST PAY RENT TO ITSELF FOR ITS PROPERTY

If Mississippi River Dredges Are Used in Ohio River Work, They Will Have to Be Leased by Uncle Sam from Himself.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 17.—In response to an urgent request of the Ohio river men, Chief Engineer Mackenzie has taken steps to have several government dredges transferred from the Mississippi to the Ohio river. It is claimed by the Ohio rivermen that government dredges are laying idle in the Mississippi, while the work on parts of the Ohio is delayed on account of the want of dredges. This alleged condition has resulted in considerable agitation among the advocates of Ohio river improvement who have said some very harsh things about the policy of the war department. In reply to these criticisms Gen. Mackenzie said today:

"While I have taken steps to secure Mississippi dredges for Ohio river work, I have no assurance that I can bring about the transfer. Even if Mississippi dredges are sent to the Ohio I am not sure that they will be adapted to the work as they were built for deeper water than is found in the Ohio at places they are needed.

"But outside of this question the fact remains that those dredges were built out of money appropriated for the improvement of the Mississippi and on that account they can be taken from the Mississippi only when there is no use for them in that stream. I have asked the Mississippi river commission to ascertain if they can be spared from the work on the Mississippi, and if they can I will transfer them to the Ohio. If I do, according to law, it will be necessary for me to pay the Mississippi river commission rent for the use of them from the Ohio river appropriation just the same as if the dredges belonged to private parties.

"It is not true, as has been charged by well-meaning friends of the Ohio river, that the war department is acting in this matter unfairly to the Ohio, but we have to observe the mandates of the law. To transfer the Mississippi dredges to the Ohio, as I would an Ohio river dredge from one point of the river to another, would be diverting the funds of the government from an object other than for which they are appropriated."

ARTON'S DEATH RECALLS PANAMA CANAL SCANDAL

Pardoned Offender, Who Possessed Secrets of Affair Which Tore France, Is Probably a Suicide.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

PARIS, July 17.—Emile Arton, one of the principal figures in the old Panama canal scandal, was found dead in his apartments this morning under circumstances indicating suicide. Arton was sentenced in 1896 to eight years' imprisonment for complicity with Baron de Reinach and Dr. Cornelius Herz in the frauds of the Panama Canal Company. Arton was the intermediary between Baron de Reinach and the incriminated French deputies, that is, between the briber and the bribed. Arton wrote checks and had the check book on whose stubs was the guilt of about 140 politicians. He alone possessed the secrets of the bribery.

When the crash came in 1892, Arton disappeared, and with him went about $740,000 of the funds of the French Dynamite society, with which Arton was associated. In his absence he was sentenced on the charge of trying to bribe a deputy to five years' imprisonment, and to 20 years' imprisonment for his connection with the French Dynamite society. Arton was finally captured in London and taken to France, but was pardoned in 1899.

De Reinach committed suicide and Dr. Herz, after seeking refuge in England, died there in 1898.

AS BAD AS HOT BATTLES.

The Railroad Accident Record for the First Quarter of This Year Shows a Decreased Mortality.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Accident bulletin No. 15, just issued by the interstate commerce commission, giving an account of railroad accidents in the United States during the months of January, February and March, 1905, shows that during that quarter there were 28 passengers and 264 employes killed, and 1,051 passengers and 2,062 employes injured in train accidents, making in all 292 passengers killed and 3,713 injured in train accidents. Other accidents to passengers and employes, not the result of collisions or derailments, bring the total number of casualties up to 15,306 (909 killed and 14,397 injured).

There was a decrease of 42 in the total number of persons killed as compared with the quarter ending December 31, 1904.

AUTOISTS FATALLY HURT.

Two Young Women Are Victims of Chauffeur's Foolhardy Efforts to Dodge Ahead of Street Car.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Two young women were probably fatally hurt today when the automobile of Frederick E. Marshall of St. Louis, which had been borrowed by Mr. Marshall's chauffeur, was caught between an elevated railway pillar and a street car. The automobile was reduced almost to scrap iron. The 40-horse power machine atempted to race in front of the car.

Miss Cora Michaelis and Helen Donnschauser, two of the chauffeur's friends, were so entangled in the wreckage of the car and automobile that it took half an hour to extricate them, but the chauffeur was uninjured. The conductor of the car was so severely injured that he was taken to a hospital.

LISBON, O., July 17.—(Special.)—Mrs. Minnie Sowards, an East Liverpool widow, has commenced a $10,000 breach of promise action here against Robert Soaker of East Liverpool. Mrs. Sowards alleges that after having prevailed on her a few weeks previous to agree to marry him soon, Sodaker, on July 10, wedded Inez Walrath, in Pittsburgh.

TONE OF STEEL MARKET SHOWS AN IMPROVEMENT

Evidences Are Accumulating That Good Buying Movement Is Not Far Off. Steel Cars Active Again.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—The Wall Street Journal today says: The general tone of the steel market shows an essential improvement. Tonnage of new business has not increased materially, but evidences are accumulating that a good buying movement is not far off, covering most of the lighter lines which have been so quiet for two or three months.

In sheets, for instance, the moderate improvement which was noted in the second half of June, and which at the time was attributed to the fear of labor complications, has been succeeded by a further improvement, although the wage matters were entirely settled. In wire products there has been a slight improvement and the curtailment of production, which is proceeding according to agreement, is counted upon to maintain the trade in satisfactory condition.

Steel car business which halted recently after the manufacturers were filled up until nearly the close of the year, is coming to the front again, two western roads being in the market for an aggregate of 80,000 cars with prospects of early closing. The business placed long ago is now the backbone of the plate trade, which is well reinforced by heavy plate consumption in other lines.

Workmen Have Narrow Escapes.

A pile of scrap iron collapsed yesterday at the Carrie furnaces, Rankin, while a score of workmen were near. Half a dozen had narrow escapes and Joseph Metz, 440 Third street, Rankin, was caught by one large piece and had his right leg crushed. He was removed to Mercy hospital.

Two Young Women Drown.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 17.—By the accidental overturning of a rowboat on Keuka lake yesterday, Miss Maud Masten of Penn Yan and Miss Remer Faulkner of Mansfield, Pa., were drowned. Four others of the party were rescued after difficulty.

COURT'S DECISION OF WIDE SCOPE

Orders on Children to Support Parents, Become Judgments and Are Collectable.

GREAT FIGHT WITHOUT FUNDS

An aged man, practically a pauper, transferred into a man of means; new and important laws enacted for the State of Pennsylvania, which will and have proved a boon to those similarly situated, and the decision of the superior court to the effect that orders of maintenance are in the nature of judgments and that the statute of limitations do not run against them, are the outcome of the effort of Charles Henry to have his children support him. His work makes valid thousands of other similar judgments, which effect estates of decedents, and which will enable indigent and aged parents, wives or children to collect the orders issued weekly in all of the quarter sessions courts of the state.

The opinion, which is by Judge Henderson of the superior court, and handed down a few days ago, has caused wide comment among lawyers at this bar, many of whom are adopting means to enforce the orders issued prior to the passage of the Indigent Parent act of 1895, which was also made a law because of the refusal of Patrick Henry to pay $3 a week to his father, Charles Henry. There are on the minute books of the quarter sessions court of this county alone thousands of orders of court requiring children to pay towards the support of parents, husbands to support wives, and orders of a similar import, which have never been compiled with.

Orders Become Judgments.

By the opinion of Judge Henderson all of these orders have become judgments, which can now be enforced against the estates of those who did not obey the order. This may cause litigation which will upset accounts in estates, as it is probable that, as it was heretofore supposed these orders were not judgments and were barred by the statute of limitations, no effort was made to collect the amounts.

This decision is the first of its kind in the state and makes the regular weekly or Saturday morning orders in quarter sessions court of great importance, because they have a permanency and will also stand against the estate of the person ordered to pay no matter how long he lives. The history of this case demonstrates that even a pauper, without a cent in the world, may accomplish much for his fellows by persistency.

Charles Henry had nothing, yet he secured services that caused even the legislature of the state to enact a law for his benefit. Now he succeeds in aiding every other person placed in his position. The attorneys who fought the case for him were the late J. K. P. Duff, John D. Watson of the Allegheny county bar, and H. K. Gregory and T. W. Dickey of the Lawrence county bar. The opinion reverses the decision of the auditor of Patrick Henry's estate; that of the courts of Lawrence county, and gives the aged parent who has lived on charity for years, nearly $2,000.

Issued Order on the Son.

In 1893 Charles Henry, an aged man, made application to the court of quarter sessions of this county for an order on his children to contribute to his support. Upon this application John D. Watson was appointed commissioner to take testimony. After a hearing on May 12, 1893, the court ordered Patrick Henry, a son of Charles Henry, to pay his father $2 a week for his support until further order of court, and to pay the costs of the commissioner, John D. Watson.

Nothing was paid by Patrick Henry pursuant to this order. In 1897, upon application of Charles Henry, setting forth the facts, the court of quarter sessions of Allegheny county imposed a penalty of $300 upon Patrick Henry to be paid by him as follows: To the department of charities of the City of Pittsburgh for the use and benefit of Charles Henry, $200, and $50 to be paid to J. K. P. Duff for counsel fees. Costs in the proceedings were again directed to be paid, and a writ of fieri facias directed to be issued against Patrick Henry to enforce payment. Again was nothing paid, as is usual in this kind of cases, in pursuance of the order of fieri facias.

The 1893 order could not be enforced by attachment, and the attorneys were at their wits end. Attorney Duff then sought the aid of Thomas J. Ford, then a member of the legislature, stated his case, and as it was seen that some law to enable orders of this kind was a necessity, so that children could be placed in jail on an attachment, Mr. Ford put through the legislature the Indigent Parent act. Since that time orders of maintenance have been enforcible and much good was done. This did not effect the prior payments in thousands of cases throughout the state, and nothing more was done by Henry at that time to collect the back payments of several hundred dollars. Other parents and wives were in the same fix.

Three Orders Were in Force.

Another application, however, was presented by Charles Henry, to the same court at No. 1126 September term, 1897, whereupon Patrick Henry was directed to pay his father $4 a month. This new order was not a modification of the old order of 1893, but a new proceeding, and all three orders, the appellants alleged, were in force against Patrick Henry at the time of his death.

The payments called for by the last order were regularly paid by Patrick Henry from December 18, 1897, to the time of his death. Henry died on May 18, 1902. On June 7, 1902, letters of administration in his estate were granted to his sister, Alice Henry, who, after a citation, filed her final account December 23, 1903.

To this account exceptions were filed. E. F. G. Harper was appointed auditor. Charles Henry, the father, presented his claim to the auditor for this $3 a week from May 12, 1893, to December 18, 1897. To this claim the accountant interposed the plea of the statute of limitations. Claim was also made for the penalty of $300, to which the statute of limitations was also set up in bar of the claim. The claim of Attorney J. D. Watson was also claimed to be barred by the statute.

The auditor held that the accountant was right and he was supported in this by the court, cutting Henry's claim out and leaving by this decision thousands of other similar claims in the same situation, as invalid and of no effect. An appeal was taken to the superior court and both the auditor and the lower court of Lawrence county were reversed, making all similar claims good judgments. The opinion which is of so much importance all over the state reads:

Justice Henderson's Opinion.

On the hearing before the auditor in the matter of the distribution of the estate of Patrick Henry, a claim was presented on behalf of his father, Charles Henry.

This claim arose out of a proceeding in the court of quarter sessions of Allegheny county, brought under the 28th section of the act of June, 1836, P. L. 528. After a hearing the court of quarter sessions made the following order:

"And now, May 12th, 1893, after considering the testimony, it is ordered that the respondent, Patrick Henry, pay the costs of these proceedings, and pay to his father, Charles Henry, three dollars ($2.40) per week for his support until further order of the court."

A subsequent proceeding was had in the same court against the same respondent for the penalty provided by the act because of the respondent's failure to comply with the order above recited. In the latter case the court made the rule absolute and ordered that the respondent pay to the department of charity of the city of Pittsburgh, for the use of Charles Henry, the sum of $250 and the costs of the proceedings, and that a writ of fieri facias be issued to enforce payment of the order. Nothing was paid to the appellant on these orders, and when the amounts thereon directed to be paid were presented as claims against the decedent's estate they were rejected by the auditor for the reason that they were barred by the statute of limitations. The single question which we now have for consideration is, does the statute of limitations operate against the orders so made?

The 28th section of the act of 1836, on which the appellant's claim is based, is a revision of the 29th section of the act of March 9, 1771, and the latter section is substantially a re-enactment of the 7th section of the statute of 43 Elizabeth, c. 2. Under all of these enactments, relations of the classes designated were placed under legal obligation to relieve and maintain poor relations as the statute provided. The act of 1836 gives jurisdiction to the court of quarter sessions in such cases, and authority is given to that court to issue process for the enforcement of its order by levy and sale of the goods of the person or persons against whom the order is made.

Defines Different Acts.

The act of April 15, 1857, P. L. 191, declares upon whose petition the proceeding may be instituted, and authorizes the court of quarter sessions, "To hear, determine and make orders and decrees in all cases arising under the 28th section of the act of the 13th of June, 1836."

The court of quarter sessions is a court of record, and the order of maintenance in such a proceeding is in the nature of a judgment. It is described in the act of 1857 as a decree. It is binding upon all the parties, and is not subject to collateral attack in a subsequent proceeding.

Judgments are the sentence of the law pronounced by the court upon the matter contained in the record. 3 Bl. Com. 395.

A judgment is the final consideration and determination of a court of competent jurisdiction upon the matter submitted to it. 1 Black on Judg., Sec. 1; 2 Tidd Prac. 936; Mahoning Bank's Appeal, 22 Pa. 189.

It was decided in re Sedgley Avenue, 7 W. N. C. 1, that the confirmation by the court of quarter sessions of an award of damages of a road jury is a judgment, and that the liability of the city of Philadelphia became fixed by the confirmation of the award. The reasoning of the court in that case is applicable here, and makes it clear that the order of the court of quarter sessions determining the liability of Patrick Henry for maintenance and for the penalty provided by the act was final and conclusive and a debt of record.

Reverses the Decree.

An award even upon a parol submission is not barred by the statute of limitations. Rouk vs. Hill, 2 W. & S., 56. Nor is the claim for a legacy, Thompson vs. McGraw, 2 W., 161.

The statute of limitations applies to "all actions of debt grounded upon any lending or contract without specialty." The statute of limitations is therefore not applicable to it, and the appellant was entitled to a participation in the distribution of the estate.

The decree is therefore reversed and the record remitted to the court below, with direction to make distribution of the fund among the creditors entitled thereto, including the appellant."

Attorney H. K. Gregory of Lawrence county argued the case. The strongest feature of the legal battle is that Charles Henry had no money, yet fought the case successfully through all these years. He is about 75 years of age. The same court also directed that Attorney Watson's original commissioner's fee be paid. Since the death of Mr. Duff, Mr. Watson has represented Henry. Many lawyers are now preparing to collect in other cases.

Mrs. Curry will close her home at Magnolia soon after her daughter's wedding and return to Pittsburgh in time for the marriage of her son, Albert J. Among the Clubs.

Work for Early Closing.

The Civic club of Allegheny county is lending its support to the very general movement for early closing of stores during the summer months and with a half holiday on Saturdays. Its support was asked for recently, the petition coming from employes of a number of the largest stores in Pittsburgh. These clerks are employed in stores which favor the early closing hours, but they wrote protesting against other firms which do not favor this movement and whose rule to keep open late might influence their own employers to do the same. The directors at the meeting last week took the matter up and authorized the president, Miss Kate C. MacKnight, to appoint a committee to try to secure early closing hours in all the stores. This work has been advocated by the Consumers' league, and the early closing hours during the week with the Saturday half-holiday has become the usual custom in the larger stores.

Pittsburgh Delegate at Conference.

The annual conference of the National Children's Home society, held last week in St. Paul, was attended by the Rev. W. Hart of Chicago, national secretary, reported that since the society was founded, 23 years ago, it has cared for 24,000 children, of whom 13,000 have been placed in homes. The society last year received 2,307 children, of whom 2,000 were taken into homes.

The first party returned to Pittsburgh on Saturday, brown and healthy after a most delightful two-weeks' outing at the Idlewood hotel. Miss Ruth A. Weldon and Miss Nettie Walsh had charge of the first party. Every two weeks another company of children will be taken down to the country to replace those who return the preceding Saturday.

WORD HUNT CONTEST HAS MANY ENTRIES

Inquirers Want to Know About Certain Things—Good Plan Is to Read the Rules.

The many replies received to the word hunt contest in last Sunday's Gazette have led the management to announce another contest for next Sunday's Gazette. It has been shown that this is one of the most interesting contests ever conducted by any Pittsburgh paper. The plan is unique and at the same time leads the reader to study th cadvertisements more closely than otherwise would be the case.

A number of letters bearing on the contest and asking for information on certain points have been received. One writer wants to know if it is allowable to use words that have already won prizes, and whether in that case, if the prizes won't be so divided as to make them too small for the work involved. The writer is assured that any found in any advertisement is available as long as it complies with the conditions.

The management will watch the contest closely and at the proper time may announce a change in the conditions. This can be done in a manner that will materially alter the method of finding the winning words. It will be necessary, therefore, for all contestants to watch the printed rules in next Sunday's Gazette. They may differ materially from those which governed the contest this week.

A REMARKABLE OPPORTUNITY.

A Real Estate Investment Near Atlantic City With Unusually Bright Feature.

Everybody knows about the wonderful growth of Atlantic City, where a barren tract of land has been developed into the greatest summer resort on the world's map. Lots that but a few years ago could be purchased for very nominal figures, are now selling at prices ranging from $25,000 to $100,000. A recent transaction shows a lot that was originally bought for $700, was sold for $50,000.

In this glance into Atlantic City's past history, investors are beginning to wonder what boundary line will ever check the phenomenal expansion of this famous resort. Atlantic City has already outgrown the island upon which it is located. It is apparent that the main shore of New Jersey, which is only separated from Atlantic City by a narrow channel, must increase in value in a manner that makes land investments there the most desirable in the world.

This situation was foreseen by the Atlantic City Estate Co. of Philadelphia, who have recently bought up an entire suburb of Atlantic City, known as Pleasantville Terrace, where they are offering building lots 25x100 feet at the remarkable price of from $30 to $45 each. It is not difficult to predict that history will repeat itself here and that money invested at Pleasantville Terrace will be productive of unusual profits, because it is only 11 minutes from Atlantic City on the main line of the Atlantic City railroad (Reading System). See Atlantic City time-table.

Always a Success.

THINK THE YOUNG MAN IS PLAYING A TRICK

Family of Thomas Rosewell Discredits the Story of His Attempt at Suicide.

The family of Thomas H. Rosewell, aged 22, who, according to a newspaper dispatch received yesterday from Springfield, O., tried to commit suicide in Cincinnati by taking corrosive sublimate, knew nothing of the case last night except what they had read in the newspapers.

Mrs. Belle Rosewell, the young man's mother, lives at 331 Lehigh avenue. The family said last night that they had not wired to Cincinnati for particulars, as they did not believe Thomas had taken poison. On three other occasions, a brother said, they received telegrams from different cities saying that he was sick in a hospital, but inquiries proved that he was not telling the truth and that he only wanted money.

The dispatch said that Rosewell left Pittsburgh two weeks ago because Mayme Patterson, a fellow worker in Strietman's bakery, had gone back on him. There is no Strietman's bakery in Pittsburgh, but there is one in Cincinnati and it is there young Rosewell has been working more than a month, according to letters received at his home.

The Rosewells are a family of means. Thomas, a brother said last night, had got into bad company and sometimes drank too much. About a year ago he was found one night on the street near his home moaning and saying he had taken carbolic acid. He was sent to the East End hospital, where it was found that he had merely applied a drop or two of the poison to his lips.

DUCK THE PRIEST.

Father McKloski Plays Trick on Parishioners and Then Brings Suit When Tables Are Turned.

The way perishioners of the Rev. Father William McKloski, rector of the Polish Roman Catholic church at Dravosburg, turned the tables on him because of a joke he had perpetrated, resulting in an arrest and a hearing before Justice of the Peace Wallace of Dravosburg, who decided that the practical joker has no grounds for complaint when he gets what is coming to him, even though he be a clergyman.

On Saturday several members of Father McKloski's congregation were visiting him, and it is alleged the rector, in a spirit of playfulness, hid the hats of his guests and had a bit of diversion at their expense. Later he was walking with the victims near a pond containing stagnant water. Before the clergyman had time to suspect a plot there was a sudden splash and he found himself in the green-hued pool. He emerged with a frown on his face, but his expostulations had no effect. He was seized by two of the men, who held him while a third divested him of his shoes. The tops of these were cut off. The home-made oxfords were provided with a fringe, after which they were replaced on the priest's feet.

Father McKloski was then released, protesting vigorously against the trick to which he had been subjected. He entered suit against Mike Mcholoski, who is said to have carved the minister's shoes, before Justice of the Peace Wallace. The justice listened patiently to the story and arrived at the conclusion that both were at fault. He divided the costs and dismissed the case.

Doings at Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 17.—(Special.)—The entire population of the resort turned out in white today in response to a rise in the temperature that needed the cooling breezes of the beach front to send the visitors out from shady hotel porches and cool nooks on piers and beach for the daily boardwalk parade. White linen and filmy muslins were the oasis of the toilettes of the fair ones, while the men took to flannels during intervals between refreshing ocean dips.

Horses and the opening of the Atlantic City show tomorrow are the sole topics of interest in the hotel corridors tonight and the society leaders and prominent horsemen are being pointed out on the boardwalk and in the exchanges of the big hotels, where the horsey contingent are making their headquarters. Over 200 valuable candidates for blue ribbons are stabled in the paddock of the Inlet Park receiving the last touch of polish and attention before the opening of the big show.

L. L. Peters, a visitor from Lewiston, Pa., had the honor of attracting the most attention of any individual in a bathing rig today when the donning of his sleeveless suit showed his arms, legs and breast to be a series of living pictures in tattoo. His promenade along the strand was marked by exclamations of wonder from the older bathers, while youngsters with inclinations toward a life on the bounding wave followed him in wonder and voiced their desire to carry a similar collection of fouled anchors, mermaids and full-rigged ships, done in color to the smallest detail.

The catch was iced on board the yacht and made several barrels of delicacies for friends of the two politicians.

YOUNG PARK FINDS FRIENDS.

President Coffin of General Electric Company Comes to Aid of Tutor Arrested for Theft.

NEW YORK, July 17.—(Special)—Edward Park, who was arrested as he stepped from a Scandinavian-American liner in Christiansand, Norway, Sunday, has friends who believe he is in no way connected with the disappearance of Miss Dorothy Higginson's jewels from the home of her father, J. J. Higginson, a New York broker. Charles A. Coffin, president of the General Electric Company, came forward in Park's behalf today. Mr. Coffin's wife is a cousin of Park, whose father is the Rev. William E. Park of Oberlin, O. Arrangements are being made to extradite the young tutor.

Park's friends assert he is the victim of mistaken identity. Detective Sergeant McCafferty is authority for the identification. When pieces of jewelry were picked up in two Bowery pawnshops, McCafferty obtained a picture of Park, which, according to Acting Captain McCauley, the pawnbrokers unhesitatingly declared resembled the man who had pawned the jewelry.

In time of peace, she said, the society would act separately from the war office and the admiralty, but would be under the control of these departments in time of war.

SENATOR CLARK RALLIES.

Physicians Think Copper King's Recovery from Operation Is Almost Assured.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Though scarcely perceptible, what change was noted tonight in the condition of United States Senator William A. Clark, was in favor of the patient. Since the radical operation of Saturday the senator has exhibited remarkable recuperative powers and has rallied steadily. Should tomorrow and Wednesday pass as satisfactorily as the preceding days, the attending physicians say that they will have little anxiety as to the ultimate result.

The senator rested quietly today, securing considerable refreshing sleep, and awoke from each nap strong and bright. At a late hour tonight he was sleeping.

INSTALL NEW OFFICERS.

Harbor Twenty-Five Is Under Guidance of Other Hands.

New hands will guide the ship of state in Harbor 25 for the coming year. The officers elected several weeks ago were installed yesterday. The installation was to have taken place July 3, but at that time a rise came along and took nearly all the members down the river, and the services were postponed until yesterday. There was an unusually good attendance and the meeting was of interest. In spite of the heat the members turned out and discussed the possibility of another rise for the month of July.

Captain W. B. Rodgers will go to the waterways convention to be held in Baltimore July 27. The meeting will take up the question of the improvement of the Ohio river. Miss Anna Edwards, national superintendent of the industrial work of the nonpartisan Women's Christian Temperance union, lectured on "Our Neglected Boys." She spoke of the enormous birth rate and said the large family which President Roosevelt so greatly admires may be admirable from his point of view, but that quality is preferable to quantity. She thanked God for the death of many poor little waifs, born into physical conditions in which no animal could thrive, and born into even worse moral atmosphere.

Dr. Mark Guy Pearse of London, spoke today on "Christian Socialism; Stories of Work in West London." He does not hesitate to show his marked disapproval of any slight commotion in the audience, such as that caused by late arrivals, and says he prefers to move his own audience, but finds here the audience moves itself. Much to Dr. Pearse's disapproval the audience continues to move as only a Chautauqua audience can.

Dr. Lincoln Halley, who will conduct the convocations during the week at the summer schools, spoke this morning on "Finds in Education."

Mr. William H. Sherwood, pianist, and Mr. Sol Marcosson, violinist, gave their second recital today.

STOCK MARKET INACTIVE, CLOSING BARELY STEADY

Volume of Trading Smaller and Fluctuations Narrower than for Some Time—Decline in Coal Preferred the Local Feature.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market was less active yesterday than for some time past, and the trading was congested in a comparatively few stocks. Fluctuations were also narrower than usual, and stocks like Union Pacific, Pennsylvania and American Smelting closed unchanged from Saturday. A score of other important issues closed at only slight net changes. One of the reasons for the dullness was the extreme heat, which cut down the attendance of traders. Another was the failure of several rumors regarding dividend declarations to disclose any real foundation. The close was barely steady, although it was noted that at the decline there was no increase in the offerings of stocks.

At the opening considerable strength was displayed by the United States Steel stocks. The common rallied to 34¾, and it was one of the few prominent stocks that retained its gain at the close. The preferred was also stronger, advancing to 102¾ and closing with a net gain of ¾ per cent. One week from today the quarterly report of the corporation will be published. Pittsburgh hears that a liberal policy will be pursued in the matter of charging off for depreciation, and for this reason the net earnings as reported may not come up to expectations. However, it is said that during the half year the corporation worked off the low-priced contracts booked before the recovery of last spring, and that the prospects are for the last half of the year showing better results than the first half. Tennessee Coal and Iron was strong and higher, and closed with a net gain of 1¼ per cent. United States Rubber common and preferred were active and strong, closing 1½@2 per cent higher. Amalgamated Copper was strong in the early dealings and advanced to 84¼, but lost most of the gain at the close.

Among the medium-priced railroad issues Ontario & Western was strong and closed 1¼ per cent higher for the day. Union Pacific advanced to 130⅝, but reacted to and closed at 130½. Wall street heard that the dividend on this stock would be declared tomorrow or the next day, and it is expected that it will be at the rate of 2½ per cent. There is also the possibility that the Illinois Central directors, who are scheduled to meet tomorrow, will increase the semi-annual rate. The stock, however, was very quiet yesterday. Northern Pacific recovered to 209 and Chicago & Northwestern to 212, but these were the only stocks among the high-class issues to show any important change. The London market for American securities was firmer, and foreigners were credited with purchases of 30,000 shares on balance.

The call loan market remained easy and unchanged at 2@2½ per cent. It is said that a large amount of foreign money has been borrowed by prominent New York business houses during the past two weeks. Wall street is disposed to look upon this borrowing as in the nature of laying in ammunition for a bull campaign in the stock market. Others look upon it as preparation for possibly higher rates in the early fall in the domestic money market.

Commodity markets were irregular. Cotton made a strong rally and closed near the top. On the other hand, wheat was weak and sold off, closing near the lowest. The primary receipts of wheat were about 500,000 bushels larger than for the corresponding day last year, and the cash demand in the southwest was disappointing. This, with the fine weather prevailing all over the wheat belt was too much for the bulls.

The largest dealings in the local market were in Pittsburgh Coal preferred, which opened steady at 57, but late in the day sold off to 55¾, and closed at 55½ bid. The decline followed the movement in New York, and was due to the uncertainty as to the action of the directors today on the dividend. There were no transactions in the common stock, which was quoted at 14 bid. River Coal preferred was offered down to 23½, and closed at 22½ bid, without sale. Pittsburgh Plate Glass was the strongest stock on the list, advancing to 122¾ and closing at 122¼ bid. The strength is based upon the excellent conditions of the glass trade. There were no transactions in American Window Glass preferred, but that stock was quoted at 36 bid, 40 asked. The steel issues were extremely dull but firm and closed at the best. United Copper made a new high record by selling at 30¾, but closed offered at 29⅞. Tonopah Extension declined to $5.50, while Lustre advanced to 24½, closing offered at 24¾. Independent Brewing was firm at 40 and the bonds advanced to 106. Pittsburgh Brewing common and bonds were stronger, but the preferred declined to 47½. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas lost a point, selling at 56. Manufacturers Light and Heat was a shade firmer at 34½@34⅝. Air Brake advanced to 146¾. There were no transactions in Electric or any of the National Fire Proofing issues.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Almost the only topic of discussion on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was the dividend prospects of Pittsburgh Coal preferred. The postponed meeting of the directors is scheduled for this afternoon, and traders were watching the stock market for an indication as to what the action of the directors would be. The market held steady to firm during the early part of the day, when it weakened slightly in New York. The latter reported that there was considerable stock for sale around 57 to 56½, and a number of local brokers received messages from out-of-town corresponents seeking information on current rumors. At the close of the market the price broke to 55¾. It was the opinion on the stock exchange that the market had already discounted a reduction of the dividend, and that if the rate were temporarily reduced to 4 per cent the price of the stock might decline slightly from the present level, but that it would recover. A reduction of the rate to 4 per cent for one year would make a difference of $950,000, and this sum might be used temporarily by the company to better advantage to the stockholders than if they received the amount in dividends. The best opinion is that there is a large short interest in both the common and preferred stocks, and if the regular rate is declared there would be a lively scramble to cover shorts. The only ground, by the way, for the prevailing uncertainty as to the rate is the action of the stock market. The street always looks at the ticker in reading the future. There is a pretty general feeling that when this uncertainty is removed the local market will do better. Pittsburgh is bullish on the Steel stocks, and the demand for the Brewing issues, stocks and bonds, is improving.

So far as the restraint on the eastern stock market was due to any apprehension of a closer money market, it was not justified by any immediate development, although the sub-treasury operations reflected the payments on account of government deposits recalled for Saturday last. The total of the installment called amounts to about $11,000,000 for all the national banks of the country. As a matter of fact, the government has expended since the first of July and of the new fiscal year, in excess of its receipts, $12,332,148, thus more than offsetting the withdrawal from the market under the call for Saturday. Bankers also expect that the government bonds held to secure the deposits in the banks, and now released, will promptly go into use for taking out additional circulation. Some of the proceeds of the new Japanese loan subscription also are likely to be restored to the market shortly. Applications were to be accompanied with 5 per cent, and the over-subscription may be employed to the extent of another 5 per cent to discount the second installment of the subscriptions due on August 3. This would absorb $5,000,000 of the $50,000,000 of bonds. The excess would be returnable to the subscribers on the allotment which was made in London yesterday and will be made in New York tomorrow. But it is felt that when the remaining installment is paid in October it is likely to be remitted abroad shortly. Any prospect of a Russian indemnity loan being offered would probably disincline the Japanese government to leave large sums on deposit in the banks of the western world for the benefit, indirectly, of a Russian loan flotation. Demand for little loans was reported good, but the supply ample.

Reports were current of some large contracts placed for foundry iron, leading to the query whether the buying movement for pig iron had begun. U. S. Steel preferred was benefited by this suggestion.

Gross earnings of Wheeling & Lake Erie for the first week in July increased $9,896.

It is stated that the June business of Diamond Match increased $109,000 over the same month last year.

An investigation of Russian crop conditions foreshadows a large shortage this year.

The moderate strength shown in a few cases on the New York list, and which was the sustaining influence on the rest of the market, was due mostly to dividend rumors. Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Erie and Amalgamated Copper were all in the list.

The Wilkinsburg Real Estate and Trust Company has paid its second quarterly dividend of 1 per cent on its capital of $200,000.

National Fire Proofing stocks were entirely neglected yesterday, and there were no sales or quotations for Westinghouse Electric.

F. F. Brooks was on the floor of the local exchange yesterday. Mr. Brooks retired from the Fidelity Title & Trust Co. on Saturday to enter the brokerage business with J. H. Childs and C. L. Childs, under the name of Childs & Co. The new house, which owns a New York stock exchange seat, will open for business about August 15 in the Arrott building.

American Window Glass Machine common was quoted at 4 bid, 10 asked, and the preferred at 34 bid, 38 asked.

Fayette County Gas was quoted at 92 bid and Union National Gas at 105½ bid, 108 asked.

A curb sale of Golden Anchor was reported at 95c, and the market closed at 92c bid, 95c asked.

Wall street had a report that Messrs. Morgan & Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and others had secured large sterling loans from Europe for the purpose of putting the market higher, but there is probably only a modicum of truth in the statement. Some large loans have been obtained, but possibly to be used only as emergency funds in such ways as may seem best.

The Wall Street Journal has the following regarding a security of local interest: Wabash Pittsburgh Terminal 1st 4s are selling in Wall street between 88 and 89, ex. 3¼ on June 1. There has been some business recently in selling from scattered sources. The bonds have never taken very well, in spite of vigorous pushing and fair value at the money. They were listed in February, 1905. Their record shows as follows:

	High.	Low.
February	90½	86½
March	92½	88½
April	90¾	84
May	87¾	84
June	91¾	87
Now	89½	89

Apparently something struck the bears in April, and it has not recovered. Rumor at the time had it that Colonel Ramsey, Jr., had sold out the last of his distribution under the Pittsburgh-Toledo settlement. No authority was cited, and if he did he had a right to do it. The two issues, aggregating par, $47,000,000, represent the outlay of about $32,000,000 in Pittsburgh and thereabouts. There was also an issue of $10,000,000 stock, exchanged for $10,000,000 Wabash common. Taking Wabash-Pittsburgh 1st 4s at 90, 3d bonds at 75 and common at 15, the price of Wabash common, the capital is selling in Wall street as follows:

$27,000,000 1st 4s at 90	$24,300,000
20,000,000 2d at 75	7,500,000
10,000,000 stock at 15	1,500,000
Total	$34,000,000

Since the total outlay of cash on the Pittsburg extension was certainly over $32,000,000, and probably over $37,000,000, it is plain as daylight that the water has been pretty well squeezed out of these securities. In other words, they are almost par with the outlay. If it could be determined just how many millions of the cost represented contributions and "graft" of various sorts it might be possible to say flatly that the bonds are cheap.

SMITH BLOCK IS TO BE ENLARGED

Pittsburgh Life & Trust Company Will Add One Story to Provide Its Own Offices.

SQUIRREL HILL $25,000 SALE

The Pittsburgh Life & Trust Company has authorized Architect James T. Steen to prepare plans for an addition of one story to the Smith block at Liberty avenue and Sixth street, which the company bought a few months ago for $1,117,000. Although not officially stated it is believed that this addition is to provide a home for the Pittsburgh Life and Trust, which expects to move into the building not later than January 1. The addition will conform to the general architecture of the block, but will have its interior arranged after a somewhat different plan to give the best possible facilities to the company that will occupy a greater part of the added room. There will be between 20 and 25 large offices provided, and these will be handsomely finished in mahogany and hardwoods and provided with tile floors. The building now contains about 120 offices and it is said that the occupants of most of these as well as the tenants of the store rooms on the first and second floors will not be disturbed until their leases expire. The Sixth street entrance to the building will also be greatly improved, and the entire building will be put in No. 1 order. The work will be started at once and will consume about three months. The estimated cost is put at about $50,000.

Buys a Squirrel Hill Home.

Jacob H. Goshring has purchased from Thomas J. Keenan a very handsome home on Squirrel Hill for about $25,000. The property faces in Wightman street, not far from Wilkins avenue. Twenty-second ward, and measures 70x150 feet. On the lot is erected a modern 13-room center hall brick house, finished in hard wood, and having two tile bath rooms. It is in an exclusive neighborhood and Mr. Goshring will, it is said, move from the Schenley to his new home early in the fall. The deal was handled by H. C. Mendel & Co. of Allegheny.

Some unknown buyer has again invaded Grant street and bought the property of George Lang at 907 for about $32,000. The lot measures 18.6x60 feet, and is located on the west side of the street, near Second avenue, the improvements consisting of an old two-story brick building. This is the first sale near this end of the street for some time, and the price paid is $1,182 a front foot, or $28 84 a square foot. The purchase was made for an investment and no improvements are contemplated at present.

Busy Season in Lumber.

No class of men who deal in builders' supplies have more reason to be thankful this summer than the wholesale lumber dealers of Pittsburgh. In the heat of mid-summer these men are busy—busier in fact than they have been any summer for years. The majority of the large firms have more business, in some lines at least, than they can conveniently attend to. This is especially true of the demand for hemlock, which, it is admitted on all sides, is phenomenal. For six weeks the orders for hemlock have been pouring in at a rate that has put the wholesalers strictly "up against it," and now most of them are ready to turn down orders without a murmur if they are wanted for prompt delivery. This excessive demand led to an advance in price July 15 of 50 cents a thousand in most grades. There is little fear but that this advance will be maintained until winter, for the business now in sight is enough to warrant a continuation of very firm quotations for weeks to come. The demand for hemlock comes largely from outside the city, and indicates a good building season—better, in fact, than is evident in the city itself. But the call for oak and yellow pine, which, although less sensational than that for hemlock, is nevertheless very large for this season, indicates a large amount of heavy construction work among the railroads, the mining companies and on the rivers. A very encouraging feature of the situation, too, is that collections are much better than last year.

A Mechanical Omission.

By one of those unaccountable errors of the printer's trade the Guarantee Title and Trust Company was omitted from the list of four large title examining companies in Pittsburgh which were referred to in The Gazette's Sunday story on title insurance. The Guarantee is all known as one of the strongest institutions of its kind in the state, and, as would be seen from a perusal of the story, the omission of its name was merely a slip of the mechanical department.

Frederick J. Close and Henry Johnson, Jr., have obtained title to the W. W. Ramsey holdings, 51x123 feet, on the north side of Forbes street, near Chestnut street, the sale of which, for $45,000, through the Freehold Real Estate Company, was published in The Gazette several weeks ago.

O'Hara—The Commonwealth Real Estate Company sold for Marie Evert of Philadelphia to Joseph Howley 36 acres in O'Hara township for $3,600. The purchaser will build a summer home on the farm.

Tustin street—A. M. Christley sold to Sarah Cohen an improved lot, 24x90 feet, in Tustin street, Fourteenth ward, for $5,600.

Shetland avenue—Charles Heme sold to Henry Schanns an improved lot, 28x120 feet, on the east side of Shetland avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $5,400.

Beltzhoover—W. T. Duffy sold to John B. Milliken an improved lot, 50x70 feet, on the south side of Seventh street, Thirty-eighth ward, for $4,000.

Laurel street—Marie Evert of Philadelphia sold to John H. Fahey 200x260 feet in Laurel avenue extending through to Juniper street, Sixteenth ward, for $2,700.

Wylie avenue—James A. Cunningham sold to Margaret Fitzpatrick an improved lot, 21x100 feet, on the north side of Wylie avenue, near Conkling street, Thirteenth ward, for $2,800.

The Presbyterian church of Sharon bought, at sheriff's sale, the interest of Robert J. Gould in an improved lot, 20x100 feet, in Mohler street, Twenty-first ward, for $1,350.

Henry W. Armstrong sold for Anna J. Scott to Mary E. Morrison her residence property, No. 3352 Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, fronting on Riverview park, consisting of a lot 100x160 feet to Orleans street, with a two-story frame colonial house containing 12 rooms, for $15,500 cash. The purchaser takes the property for a home.

A realty deal of importance was announced in McKeesport yesterday by T. D. Gardner, who sold to John P. Harris, the Pittsburgh theatrical man, a 40-foot frontage in Market street for $40,000. The property is next to the Peoples bank and extends back to an alley 140 feet. Mr. Harris says he bought the property as an investment and will shortly improve the several buildings on it. Mr. Harris stated that yesterday's deal was one of several which he proposed to consummate in the near future. Historic interest is connected with a brick building on the property, which was occupied 70 years ago by the First Methodist Episcopal congregation as a house of worship and later by the German Lutheran congregation.

The Pittsburgh bureau of building inspection issued the following permits yesterday: To Home for Incurables, two-story brick addition, at Fifty-fifth and Butler streets, Seventeenth ward, to cost $20,000; to Mrs. James Laughridge, two-story and attic brick dwelling, at Jackson street and Heberton avenue, Nineteenth ward, to cost $14,000; to J. W. Craig, two three-story brick warehouses, at Eighteenth and Pike streets, Tenth ward, to cost $10,600; to Robert and Sadie Emmett, two-story frame dwelling on Acorn street, Twenty-third ward, to cost $1,500; to William Glenn, two-story and mansard dwelling, on Danube street, Nineteenth ward, to cost $2,000; to Mary J. Wandless, two-story and attic brick dwelling, on Adelaide street, Thirteenth ward, to cost $3,100; to Peter Rice, two-story and attic frame dwelling, on Cairo street, Thirty-second ward, to cost $2,200; to James Gunling, two-story and attic frame dwelling, on McCandless avenue, Eighteenth ward, to cost $2,400; to Michael Guning, two-story and mansard dwelling, on McCandless avenue, Eighteenth ward, to cost $3,600; to Peter Cordic, two-story frame dwelling on Chatsworth avenue, Twenty-third ward, to cost $1,525; to H. R. Beck, two-story and attic brick dwelling, at 14 Berna street, Thirty-second ward, to cost $3,000; Emil Spocato, two-story brick store and dwelling, at Logan street and Webster avenue, Seventh ward, to cost $2,200.

GOOD FRESH EGGS ARE SCARCE IN THE MARKET

Country Butter Is Also Being Consumed on the Farm by the Harvest Hands.

Local markets were quiet yesterday, except in staples. The supply of fresh vegetables is always short the first day of the week. Berries were plentiful and peaches and other southern fruits were in abundance, but quotations were not changed. Business in the staples line was heavy.

Butter remains at the same figure for another week, the Elgin board making no change. Eggs are firm at the prices quoted, but really fresh ones are getting scarce. This being the height of the harvest season, farmers have no time to drive to their market towns with the week's supply of eggs. As a result some storage is probably going on in the market, but as these are perfectly sweet, there can be no objection. The supply of country butter is also short now, as the product is all being consumed on the farm.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania—2 oats, 17 hay, 5 corn, 1 straw, 3 feed. Baltimore & Ohio—5 hay, 3 oats. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie—8 oats, 5 hay, 3 corn.

Light receipts are holding up the market in Pittsburgh, although there has been a slight falling off in the west. Oats and bran already show a slight falling off in sympathy with the western movement. Other lines are firm.

Pig Iron Brightens Up.

NEW YORK, July 17.—For the first time in nearly two months activity characterized the pig iron market last week. It is estimated that at least 35,000 tons were sold in the local market last week, while almost as much more was sold by the southern furnaces. One pipe manufacturing company is credited with taking 20,000 tons. Prices of southern iron have been advanced from 25 to 50 cents a ton for future shipment and the tendency of prices in the north is upward, this change having been brought about in a week.

Buy Copper Buy Copper COPPER

Amalgamated Copper will sell at 130—it may reach 150. This is my prediction. Don't stick a pin here. Buy the stock, and buy it now. Don't wait for it to touch top. Buy it now.

This prediction is made after a careful investigation of the intrinsic value and the market position of the stock. Amalgamated sold at 130 in 1901. There are more reasons in 1905 than in 1901 why it should sell at that price.

The Amalgamated Copper Company is operated under Standard Oil methods and policies. Whatever may be said of the Standard Oil people, it has never been denied that this group of financiers has been successful in their undertakings. They made Standard Oil, they made St. Paul and they made many other equally good securities. They have made Amalgamated Copper. Now they are going to give it a proper market value. That value is 130, maybe 150.

Inside financial interests have been accumulating the shares since their low point in October, 1903. The bear party of Wall street and Boston have used every pressure to keep the shares down. They are now 50 points above that low record.

Thousands of dollars have been spent in a bear campaign against Amalgamated since July, 1904. Within the year the price has advanced 60 per cent and the dividend has been increased from ¼ of one to one per cent quarterly. Dividends talk.

Five years ago Amalgamated paid eight per cent. The conservative policy of reducing the dividend has placed the company in a strong position. The stock will be on a six per cent basis in a short time. Then the dividend will be increased again. If it is worth over 80 when it pays four per cent, it will be worth more than 120 on a six per cent basis.

The worth of a mining stock is judged by ore in sight. It is estimated that one-fifth of the Butte Mountain ore body has been mined. Statistics show that one-fifth was worth $700,000,000. Eighty per cent of the remainder belongs to Amalgamated. That would be worth at least $2,240,000,000, or $1,445.00 for each share of Amalgamated. Stupendous.

Amalgamated produced 240,000,000 pounds of copper last year. At double this output it would still be working in the Butte deposit 100 years from now.

One hundred mines and mining claims belong to the Amalgamated. Look at its timber and coal, its railroads and profits from by-products.

Look at Amalgamated when its output is compared with that of the world's greatest mines:

	Output in 1904.
Rio Tinto	74,000,000 lbs.
Mansfeld	60,000,000 "
Calumet & Hecla	51,000,000 "
Consol. Copper Queen	45,000,000 "
Nevada Consolidated	40,000,000 "
AMALGAMATED	240,000,000 "

At the present rate of output, Amalgamated will produce 320,000,000 pounds in 1905.

The copper metal market is strong. Better than 15 cents a pound will be received for this output. At 15 cents it would be worth $45,000,000.

It would take only $9,500,000 to pay a 6 per cent dividend on Amalgamated's $158,000,000 stock. This is only 20 per cent of the gross income from copper mined. In addition there are profits from by-products, timber, coal, etc.

Glance at some of Amalgamated's subsidiary companies: Boston & Montana, Anaconda, Parrot, Butte & Boston, Colorado Mining, etc.

Amalgamated owns the Boston & Montana and the Butte & Boston, 65 per cent of Anaconda, and 77 per cent of the Parrot.

In 1904 Montana produced $4,980,600 in gold, and $12,750,000 in silver. Butte Mountain produced 15 per cent of this gold and 95 per cent of the silver.

The Butte Mountain deposit is the richest and most easily worked in the world. The deepest ore is the richest. The worth of this deposit of copper ore is almost incredible.

These are facts—not fancies.

Amalgamated is worth more money. In the eighties it is out of its class. This will be better realized soon when it sells above 160.

The tape will soon record "ACP" above par, and it will keep going until 130 is reached; possibly it will touch 165.

WILL EXPERIMENT WITH NEW TYPES

Pennsylvania Lines Use Compound Engine for First Time. Local Appointments.

ENLARGING YARDS AT DERRY

Two of the four experimental locomotives being built for the Pennsylvania lines west will be delivered within the next few days and will be placed in service at once. These are the Atlantic type Cole compound engine, numbered 7748, and the prairie type, numbered 7453. The Baldwin Atlantic type Vauclain compound has been in service about one month, but no tests have yet been made. The object of the Pennsylvania lines in securing these engines is to test the comparative economies of the simple and compound types. Heretofore the company has been using only simple types, and the first compound to be used on the lines west is the Baldwin Vauclain. The Pennsylvania railroad is having four similar engines built for experimental purposes. The latter engines are like those of the lines west, except they have a 5,500-gallon tank instead of 7,000-gallon capacity, as on the western lines.

The diameter of drivers and lengths of the engines are as follows: Atlantic Cole compound, 80-inch drivers, engine 69 feet 7 inches long; prairie type, 74-inch drivers, engine 74 feet long; consolidation type, engine 68 feet 9½ inches long; Baldwin Atlantic Vauclain compound, drivers 72 inches, engine 72 feet 8 inches long. The new Atlantic type engine, class E-29, is similar to the old E-2-b class of the Pennsylvania lines; except in having the Cole compound attachment. The prairie is to be known as class J-28, the compound consolidatoin type as class H-28 and the Baldwin Vauclain is known as class E-28.

The Pennsylvania lines have received the first two of 10 consolidation engines equipped with Walschaert valve gear; one engine has been placed in service on the Ft. Wayne and the other on the Panhandle. This type of engine is new in America. The parts were designed by Gen. Supts. Motive Power D. F. Crawford and G. W. Gibbs.

Allegheny Has Busy Station.

There are 160 trains handled each day at the Federal street station of the Pennsylvania system in Allegheny. Of this number 89 trains have the station as a terminal, 65 being Fort Wayne suburban trains and 24 West Penn division trains. The other 71 are through passenger trains to or from the Union station in Pittsburgh, but all have to be cared for at the Allegheny station in the matter of passengers. This large number of trains handled shows something of the need of better facilities from a railroad standpoint. Ticket Agent H. S. Bare and his force of ticket sellers are kept busy at the windows waiting on the large patronage.

"For the few days at the end of each month and in the beginning of the next month there is a very heavy business because of the sale of monthly tickets to commuters," said Mr. Bare; "but aside from these sales there is always a good sale of tickets for every train passing through or leaving this station. The principal portion of the suburban travel of the Fort Wayne is handled from here."

Work upon the temporary station for the terminal will proceed wildly, so as to allow the ticket offices and waiting rooms to be given a place by August 1, when the old station will be dismantled. The offices of Station Master S. F. Cole and of the gatemen have been placed under the elevated tracks at the rear of the baggage room, where the news stand will also be quartered after today. The temporary station will be amply large to accommodate the patrons comfortably.

Rock Island Passenger Men.

Word was received in Pittsburgh yesterday that George S. Pentecost has been promoted from passenger agent of the Rock Island and Frisco systems at St. Louis to district passenger agent in this city and district, and that L. H. McCormick has been promoted from city passenger agent of the two roads at St. Louis to traveling passenger agent for the district east of Pittsburgh, reporting to Mr. Pentecost. Mr. Pentecost will take the passenger department management in this district that was formerly handled by D. H. Maloney, in connection with the freight business. He has been identified with the two systems for several years, having been traveling passenger agent at Fort Worth and El Paso before being placed at St. Louis as passenger agent. These two men and C. M. Ellsworth, who was appointed commercial agent here, are expected to arrive here in a few days.

Pennsylvania Traffic Changes.

J. Edward Brackney, freight solicitor of the Pennsylvania lines west, has been transferred to a position in the office of John M. Lyon, auditor of freight receipts. He is succeeded as freight solicitor by Frederick Richardson, who has been the clerk in charge of the Pennsylvania freight office at Twenty-ninth street, Pittsburgh, under Agent W. J. Peebles. He will report to V. C. Williams, district freight solicitor, with headquarters in the Bessemer building. Mr. Brackney has been identified with the company for a long time, and is well known. Mr. Richardson is given a promotion and placed in line for still higher work in the traffic department. The appointments were effective yesterday.

Fishing Club Going to Chesapeake.

Ten of the large fishing clubs of Pittsburgh have selected as their camping ground for this season points along Chesapeake bay, near Baltimore. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has arranged to handle most of these clubs. One of the clubs will leave next Saturday evening and the others will go within the next three weeks. The object sought by the clubs in the change from Canadian bays to the Chesapeake bay is that at the latter they will have tide water and can also secure clams and oysters. The camps will be in direct touch with Baltimore through the several small steamers that pass up and down the bay.

Doubling Derry Freight Yards.

The freight yards of the Pennsylvania railroad at Derry will be doubled in size to provide facilities for handling the trains there. Work was begun yesterday by the Drake & Stratton Company on the extension. It is said the supervisor's headquarters will be removed from New Florence to Derry when the yards are completed.

Railroad Notes.

O. C. Castle, chief clerk to Superintendent B. W. Duer of the Baltimore & Ohio, is on the sick list.

S. S. Bridgers, commercial agent of the Norfolk & Western railway, is taking a vacation jaunt through the south.

Earl E. Leyda of the advertising department of the Pennsylvania lines is spending a ten-day vacation at Atlantic City.

C. W. Gorsuch, assistant train master of the Baltimore & Ohio, and Mrs. Gorsuch have returned from a two-weeks' visit at Atlantic City.

Superintendent R. T. Morrow of the West Penn division of the Pennsylvania railroad, is at Atlantic City for his vacation. Mrs. Morrow is with him.

Assistant General Passenger Agent J. P. Taggart and Traveling Passenger Agent Arthur W. Tiddy are taking a trip over the lines west of Pittsburgh.

M. F. Shafer, bill clerk in the office of Superintendent of Motive Power L. H. Turner of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, accompanied by his wife, is taking a vacation trip on the lakes.

H. H. Stone, crew dispatcher for the Pennsylvania system at Union station, will leave today to enjoy a vacation, visiting his mother at Altoona and going thence to Buffalo and Columbus.

E. S. Jackson has been transferred as agent from West Apollo, on the West Penn division, to Coral, on the Pennsylvania's Indiana branch, and J. L. Miller, former agent at Coral, becomes agent at West Apollo.

The Pittsburgh Construction Company has been awarded contracts by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for building a new brick passenger station at New Philadelphia, O., and for constructing the umbrella platform sheds in connection with the new Youngstown station.

Among the officers of the Pennsylvania lines west visiting local officials yesterday were General Superintendent R. E. McCarty of the Southwest system at Columbus, Superintendent James A. McCrea of the Cincinnati division at Cincinnati, and Superintendent of Motive Power T. W. Demarest of the Northwest system at Fort Wayne.
